COACHING STAFF

Head Coach, Joe Philbin
Pro career: Became the tenth coach in Dolphins history on January 20, 2012. Completed his second season as head coach of the Miami Dolphins, Joe Philbin led the team to an 8-8 record in 2013. It marked the second straight season the Dolphins improved their win total under Philbin, and he became the Dolphins' first coach to improve the team's record two consecutive years since the 1997 and 1998 campaigns. In addition, the Dolphins were one of only four teams in the NFL this year (along with Seattle, Cincinnati, and Carolina) to improve their record for a second straight season. Along the way, the Dolphins improved in a number of key areas. Philbin emphasized the importance of takeaways throughout the year and the defense responded by recording a takeaway in 15 of their 16 games, one of only five NFL teams to accomplish that feat in 2013. In addition, the Dolphins improved their turnover ratio by a +8 margin from the previous season, the eighth best turnover improvement in the league. As a mark of the team's discipline, in 2013 the Dolphins tied for the third least penalized team in the league. The Dolphins finished third in the AFC in scoring defense, while limiting opponents to a 77.3 passer rating, the third lowest total in the AFC and the fifth lowest total in the NFL. Philbin joined Miami after serving as the offensive coordinator with the Green Bay Packers since 2007.

Background: Philbin played one year at Washington and Jefferson, where he earned his degree in sociology. He has coached collegiately at Tulane (1984-85), Worcester Tech (1986-87), USMMA (1988-89), Allegheny (1990-93), Ohio (1994), Northeastern (1995-96), Harvard (1997-98) and Iowa (1999-2002).

FOUR DOLPHINS NAMED NFL ALL-STARS

Miami Dolphins punter Brandon Fields, cornerback Brent Grimes, center Mike Pouncey and defensive end Cameron Wake were selected to the 2014 NFL Pro Bowl squad the NFL announced. The annual contest will be played on Sunday, January 26, 2014 at Aloha Stadium in Honolulu, Hawaii. The game will be televised live on NBC at 7:00 PM ET.

Fields, in his seventh NFL season, will be making his first trip to the Pro Bowl in 2014. Fields is ranked second in the NFL in punt average (48.8 per punt), second in net average (42.4), tied for third with 33 punts inside the 20-yard line and has also recorded the third longest punt (74 yards at Buffalo on December 22, 2013) in the league during the 2013 season. Fields is one of only two Dolphins punters to be selected to the Pro Bowl, joining Reggie Roby (1984, 1989).

Grimes, in his seventh NFL season and first with the Dolphins, will be making his second trip to the Pro Bowl. He previously was selected to the 2011 NFC Pro Bowl squad as a member of the Atlanta Falcons. In 2013, Grimes started all 16 games at cornerback and has recorded 60 tackles, leads the Dolphins with 16 passes defensed, and is tied for the team lead in interceptions with four, including one which he returned 94 yards for a touchdown. Grimes is the just the third Dolphins cornerback selected to the Pro Bowl, joining Sam Madison (1999-2002) and Patrick Surtain (2002-04).

Pouncey, in his third NFL season, will be making his first trip to the Pro Bowl in 2014. Pouncey has started at center in 14 games for the Dolphins in 2013. He is the first Dolphins center selected to the Pro Bowl since Tim Ruddy in 2000 and is only the fourth Dolphins center selected to the Pro Bowl, joining Hall of Famers Jim Langer (1973-78) and Dwight Stephenson (1983-87) and Ruddy (2000).

Wake, in his fifth NFL season, will be making his third trip to the Pro Bowl and second as a defensive end (he made the Pro Bowl in 2011 after a 14-sack season as a linebacker). In 2013, Wake has registered 37 tackles, 8.5 sacks, 19 quarterback hits, eight tackles for a loss, two forced fumbles, one fumble recovery and one safety through 16 games. On October 31, 2013, Wake recorded the first safety of his NFL career when he sacked Andy Dalton in the end zone with 6:42 remaining in overtime giving the Dolphins a 22-20 victory over the Bengals. It marked just the third time in NFL history that an overtime game had been decided on a safety.

Wake is one of only two Dolphins players to earn Pro Bowl recognition at different positions (linebacker in 2011 and defensive end in 2013 and '14), joining teammate Randy Starks who was selected as a defensive end in 2011 and as a defensive tackle in 2013.

For the first time ever, the Pro Bowl will be "unconferenced." Gone is the familiar AFC vs. NFC match-up that has existed since 1971. Instead, players will be selected without regard to conference in voting by fans, coaches and players. For example, the top six quarterbacks following voting will earn distinction as All-Stars, regardless of how many are from AFC or NFC teams.

The Pro Bowl players are determined by the consensus votes of fans, players and coaches. Each group's vote counts one-third toward determining the 86 All-Star players who will be eligible for the Pro Bowl Draft. Each head coach will also chose one "need" player, which must be a long snapper.

The NFL All-Stars are determined by the consensus votes of fans, players and coaches. Each group's vote counts one-third toward determining the 86 Pro Bowl players who will be eligible for the first-ever Pro Bowl Draft.

GENERAL MANAGER DENNIS HICKEY

College .....Tulsa

NFL .....19th Season

Dolphins .....First Season

Miami Dolphins Chairman of the Board and Managing General Partner Stephen Ross named Dennis Hickey as the team's General Manager on January 28, 2014. He joins the Dolphins after spending 18 years with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, including the past three seasons as the team's Director of Player Personnel.

In his new role with the Dolphins, Hickey is responsible for football operations and administration, including directing the college and pro personnel departments. He directs all scouting efforts involving the college draft, free agency, the Canadian Football League, and personnel of the other 31 NFL teams. Hickey works together with Head Coach Joe Philbin and other senior executives in implementing the philosophy of building a championship caliber football team.

During his time as Tampa Bay's Director of Player Personnel, Hickey worked alongside General Manager Mark Dominik to engineer a series of impressive off-seasons both via free agency acquisitions as well as through the NFL Draft. In addition to his eye for talent evaluation, Hickey also has a history of scouting and evaluating all levels of professional football including NFL, CFL and the Arena Football League while also handling all aspects of the NFL Draft. He also assisted in managing the day-to-day football operations focusing on player personnel, overseeing both the pro personnel and college scouting departments. Along with his football operations duties, Hickey also assisted Dominik and the Buccaneers coaching staff with all transactions made by the team including, daily roster moves, free agency and contract negotiations.

Over his final two seasons in Tampa Bay, three members of the Buccaneers have earned All-Pro recognition or have been selected to play in the Pro Bowl. The three players, Doug Martin (2012 Pro Bowl selection), Gerald McCoy (2012 and 2013 Pro Bowl selection and 2013 All-Pro Selection) and Lavonte David (2013 All-Pro Selection) were all draft selections and have become a solid foundation for the team going forward.

The 2013 off-season saw the Buccaneers sign Pro Bowl safety Dashon Goldson while further bolstering the defensive backfield with the acquisition of perennial All-Pro and 2009 AFC Defensive Player of the Year, cornerback Darrelle Revis. Coupled with free agent acquisitions, Tampa Bay also added talent on both sides of the ball through the draft highlighted by All-Rookie selections defensive back Jonathan Banks and quarterback Mike Glennon, who was also named NFC Rookie of the Month for November. Other key contributors acquired in the 2013 draft included defensive end Akeem Spence, linebacker William Gholston and running back Mike James, who each started multiple games as well as undrafted free tight end Tim Wright, who appeared in all 16 games in 2013, with eight starts, while lead all rookie tight ends in receptions. All six of the Buccaneers draft choices in 2013 were a part of Tampa's 53-man roster and appeared in 75 of the 96 regular season games, starting a combined 50 games.

The additions of 2013 came following a 2012 offseason which the Buccaneers were one of the most active teams in the pursuit of available free agents. During the 2012 free agency period, Tampa Bay made an immediate splash as they signed Pro Bowl wide receiver Vincent Jackson, Pro Bowl guard Carl Nicks and cornerback Eric Wright. Coupled with the free agent signings, Hickey also had a key role with an impressive 2012 draft which saw the team select three players who went on to be named to the PFW/PFWA All-Rookie Team, safety Mark Barron, running back Doug Martin and linebacker Lavante David. In addition to being named to the All-Rookie team, Martin also garnered a trip to the Pro Bowl following the 2012 season.

The 2011 draft saw the Buccaneers lay a foundation on defense as they drafted several players who would make an immediate impact on the defensive side of the ball. Hickey started in the first round selecting University of Iowa defensive end Adrian Clayborn with the 20th overall selection. Clayborn went on to start all 16 games while recording 54 tackles, a team-leading 7.5 sacks, 26 quarterback pressures, four TFL and three forced fumbles. The defensive trend continued as the Buccaneers selected Clemson defensive end Da'Quan Bowers, considered by many a potential high first round pick, in the second round and linebacker Mason Foster in the third round. Foster would go on to record a team-leading 126 tackles, four TFL, 2.0 sacks, four quarterback pressures, one interception, two passes defensed, one forced fumble and one fumble recovery.

In 2010, Hickey's first year as the team's Director of Player Personnel, he looked to the draft to build and strengthen the team en route to a 10-6 record. Seven of the nine players selected in the draft had at least one start, with the class as a whole recording a total of 49 starts on the season. The 2010 class was highlighted by wide receiver Mike Williams, as the fourth-round selection started every game for the Buccaneers and finished with 65 receptions for 964 yards and 11 touchdowns all which led all NFL rookie receivers. At the conclusion of the 2010 season Williams was named a finalist for the Pepsi NFL Rookie of the Year and finished second to St. Louis quarterback Sam Bradford in voting for AP Offensive Rookie of the Year.

The 2009 draft provided immediate returns as first round pick, quarterback Josh Freeman, led all rookies in completion percentage (54.5). Freeman also made his mark on the Buccaneers record book as he set rookie franchise marks with 10 touchdown passes and 1,855 passing yards in just nine starts. The 2009 draft also produced defensive tackle Roy Miller, who tied for third among Tampa lineman with 54 tackles and two sacks as well as wide receiver Sammy Slaughter who finished third on the team with 31 receptions for 334 yards and a touchdown while also contributing on special teams with a kickoff return for a touchdown.

The 2008 draft produced a number of contributors which included cornerback Aqib Talib, who tied for the NFL lead among rookies with four interceptions, offensive lineman Jeremy Zuttah, who emerged as a starter at both guard positions, and linebacker Geno Hayes, a special teams contributor who would work his way into the Buccaneers starting lineup at the start of the 2009 season. In 2007, the Buccaneers compiled a draft class that was highlighted by two selections to the Pro Football Writers/Pro Football Writers Association All-Rookie team. First round selection Gaines Adams led all rookies with six sacks, while guard Aaron Sears started all 16 games during his rookie campaign.

In 2006, the Tampa rookie class saw four draft selections start 38 games for the Buccaneers including quarterback Bruce Gradkowski, guard Davin Joseph, wide receiver Maurice Stovall and tackle Jeremy Trueblood. Joseph has become a mainstay along the Tampa offensive line and has since been selected twice (2008, 2011) to represent the Buccaneers in the Pro Bowl.

In 2005, his first year as the Director of College Scouting, Hickey helped assembled a draft class that provided three immediate starters on offense including the Diet Pepsi NFL Rookie of the Year running back Carnell "Cadillac" Williams, guard Dan Buenning, who started all 16 games during his rookie campaign, and tight end Alex Smith, who recorded 41 receptions for 367 yards and two touchdowns while appearing in all 16 games. The contributions of the 2005 rookie class, in which 10 of the team's 12 draft picks spent time on the roster, helped the Buccaneers complete an impressive turnaround from a 5-11 team in 2004 to 11-5 in 2005 and a NFC South Division Championship.

Hickey's eye for talent has also extended past the draft, as he played instrumental roles in the acquisition of a number undrafted collegiate free agents who developed into promising professional players. Some of the undrafted free agents signed by the Buccaneers included running back LeGarrett Blount, originally signed by the Tennessee Titans but claimed off waivers by Tampa, who led all rookies in 2010 with 1,007 yards rushing and became only the second undrafted running back (Dominic Rhodes in 2001) to rush for more than 1,000 yards as a rookie in NFL history. Another player who found success with Tampa was defensive tackle Michael Bennett who went undrafted in 2009 and was claimed off waivers from the Seattle Seahawks during the 2009 season by the Buccaneers after going undrafted and spent the next three seasons in Tampa Bay, turning in an impressive 2012 when he reached a career high in tackles, sacks and forced fumbles. In 2008, the Buccaneers signed two undrafted free agents who would significantly contribute including running back/kick returner Clifton Smith (2008), a 2009 Pro Bowl selection as a kick returner as well as being named AP Second-Team All-Pro, and cornerback Elbert Mack, who appeared in 15 games in the Buccaneers' secondary and on special teams and finished the 2008 season with 12 special team tackles.

Prior to taking a senior administrative and personnel role with the Buccaneers, Hickey was a member of the team's college scouting staff where he was responsible for the Midwest region of the country. While a scout, Hickey played a key role in scouting several players who would become key contributors to the Buccaneers, including University of Nebraska linebacker Barrett Ruud in 2005 and Kansas State kicker Martin Gramatica in 1999. Ruud, a second-round selection (36th overall) during the 2005 NFL Draft, spent six seasons (2005-2010) with the Buccaneers and was a mainstay on the Tampa defense starting 63 of 64 games during a four-year span (2007-2010). Gramatica, was a third round selection (80th overall) during the 1999 NFL Draft, spent five seasons (1999-2003) with Tampa Bay earning All-Pro Second Team honors in 2000 while also being named to the 2000 Pro Bowl. It was also during this time that he was a part of the Buccaneers organization that claimed the franchises' first Super Bowl Championship in 2002, a 48-21 victory over the Oakland Raiders in Super Bowl XXXVII in San Diego, California.

Hickey joined the Buccaneers as a pro personnel assistant in 1996 following a stint as a coach at Blinn Junior College where he was responsible for coaching the defensive backs as well as recruiting the state of Texas. Hickey has been a part of programs throughout his career whether on the high school, collegiate or professional level that have gone on to win championships, including a high school state championship in 1989, a junior college national championship in 1990 and a Super Bowl title in 2002. Hickey began his collegiate career as a safety at Coffeyville Community College in Coffeyville, Kansas, where he was a captain and an academic All-American prior to becoming a three-year starter and letter winner at safety for the University of Tulsa.

Dennis and his wife, Stephanie, have one daughter, Breanna, and one son, Barrett.

DENNIS HICKEY'S INTRODUCTORY PRESS CONFERENCE TRANSCRIPT

"Thank you Mr. Ross. I'm truly honored and count it as privilege to be named the General Manager of the Miami Dolphins. It was a thorough process. Challenging process. But it was key for me as I went through the process. I wanted to get a feel for just the level of commitment to bringing a championship back to Miami and through every interaction that I had with Stephen and through the whole interview process I found a person that was totally dedicated to committing whatever resources needed to bring a championship team back to Miami. Just I was impressed with his knowledge. We had numerous conversations and his knowledge of not only of his own team but also my team and players and we had one interchange where he was asking me about the high school achievements of one of the players we drafted and I was very impressed with that knowledge and just a passion and just his commitment in know that he will commit whatever resources that we need to make us a winner. Also want to thank the Glazer family and the Buccaneer organizations. Spent 18 years, almost half my lift as part of that organization and through it all, even though I was with the same organization all those 18 years, worked under several different head coaches, several different GM's and was truly blessed to learn from some great men and great football minds and great people. Starting with Tony Dungy, Jon Gruden, Coach Raheem Morris, Greg Schiano in addition to the General Managers that I've worked under, Rich McKay, Bruce Allen, and Mark Dominik. Again, I took it upon myself as a young scout to just be a sponge. There was so much knowledge in the building that I always wanted to look and learn and not only learn from successes but learn from failures and continue to home my craft not only as an evaluator but also with the thought of eventually becoming a GM and how I would detail my processes that would lead to good decisions. I was truly blessed to be in the Bucs organization and also have a good relationship with Lovie Smith and Jason Licht. I only worked under them for a couple of weeks before this opportunity presented itself. I'm also blessed to have my family here. The scouting profession, like the coaching profession is very challenging and a lot sacrifices have to be made by the families. I'm blessed to have a beautiful and lovely wife that's a special person that's my soul mate and really my guardian angel here on earth that has been with me and really helped me through this process. Being patient for my opportunity. The talented and beautiful daughter, Brianna, age 14 who will always be daddy's little girl. Than my son, what I call my mini me, Barrett. Upon learning that I accepted the job we were leaving church. We were in my wife's minivan and got the call from Mr. Ross and Coach Philbin and the excitement and he's like okay, when do I get my jersey? So we made sure that drove down to the local sporting goods and got him his (Ryan) Tannehill jersey. They're a part of, a big part of me and I'm so thankful for their support throughout the years. I'm also thankful for my mom and my dad who passed away a couple of years ago and just the foundation they laid for me, making me the person that I am. Appreciate my two brothers. As I had an antidote as we talked with a lot of staff over at the stadium today that they taught me competitive nature at an early age. Two older brother, we competed about everything and that kind of drove the competitive nature that drove me to want to play sports and when I was done playing sports to get in the sports profession. I think as a competitive environment as there is in the world and just excited to be part of that. My brothers, Bart and Brett, they're both very successful in their endeavors and they're a big part of shaping who I am."

"You know as we went through this process there were so many things that as I did my research on the Dolphins organization and the past and the present and the future it struck my first time in the building I was been let through and seen, you know all the pictures of the Dolphin greats. Because that's the one thing about this organization. It has a very proud past. History of not only good players but great players. Not only great players but legendary players. Not only good coaches but great coaches. Not only great coaches but legendary coaches. Not only good teams but great teams. Not only great teams but legendary teams. And just the excitement to join in that organization and embracing all of the great names and seeing the pictures of Dan Marino, Bob Griese, Larry Csonka, Jason Taylor, Zach Thomas. Just knowing the rich tradition that has come before me and come before our future team because I think it's so important that as our players, that they embrace the greatness that has been part of this organization and that was a huge part of my draw to the organization. That's my person commitment is to return and build a, continue to build a team a long side Coach Philbin that is a team that our passionate fan base can be proud of on the field. That's successful on the field but also that our community can be proud of off the field. And that can bring, look I'm about winning. Okay. My competitive nature as they asked me, 'What is it about you that separates you' and that's competitive nature. I no longer play. My competitive outlet is scouting, evaluating players, being innovative, looking at different things, different ways to approach team building that can be better than the other 31 teams. It starts with unified vision, detailed proven processes and surrounding yourself with as many talented people as you can. That's the goal and that was the other draw of the Dolphins organization. I had come to know Coach Philbin, just as an area scout in the Midwest going through Iowa and as an area scout you watch a lot of practices, you see how coaches interact and the ones that develop and develop players and teach are always the ones that kind of stood out and I always felt that Coach Philbin was one of those and as I followed his career it was no surprise to me that he continued to climb the ladder, had success at every point. And that was a big draw to the Dolphins organization for me was the opportunity to work a long side Coach Philbin with commonality as I went through the interview process and kind of laid out a vision of who I am. My beliefs, my core beliefs, my philosophy. What I believe in, an organization of trust and integrity. A group of passionate people that will work hard, that will use innovative methods to become a winner and as we sat there it was kind of like, yes, this fits. As I came back and talked to my wife I said it went great. I feel like we're already on the same page and our philosophies are the same and we just want to build a winner and do it together, collectively and there's no magic pill to building a championship team. I was fortunate in my time in Tampa to watch a championship team being built and it took the entire organization working together and it was a process. And it was built one decision at a time. That's going to be the same way it is here but the goal is to be a winner and to win championships. One of the other draws to the organization and why I felt it was a fit for me was I thought it had a good nucleus of young players that I felt could develop into a championship quality roster. And so I was excited about that. I was excited about the people. As I interacted with them over the last couple of days and I'm actually in the building and working with the people, all of my impressions have been confirmed. Just the talent, as I sat down with Dawn Aponte and went through out salary cap structure and again that was another appealing, the salary cap flexibility under her director and her command of the salary cap. I was fortunate to participate in a GM Symposium over the summer at the Wharton School of Business and she presented on a couple of different salary cap topics and I was always impressed on her knowledge of the cap, her abilities to work numbers and also just her, the presence and ability to work together with people. So all those things were draws at every point. I just felt it was a perfect fit for me. It was a perfect fit for my family and I felt it was place that I could come in and through good decision making, one decision at a time that we could build a winner. A sustained championship team here in Miami and that's why I took the job. That's why I'm hearing, like I said, every day since it's been just complete confirmation of all my thoughts. As I have interacted more with Tom Garfinkel, Matt Higgins, Stephen Ross, with the PR, the Strength Coach, Darren Krein, the medical staff, Kevin O'Neill. Even the assistants, Anne (Rodriguez), coaches assistant, who's been here 35 years. To interact with her and just see everything fit. My own personal assistant Annie (Berger), everything, I see an organization that has the foundation, that has the people and has the vision to become a championship organization and that's my personal commitment to play my part. To be that compliment to all the talent that's already been assembled here and the staff not only with the nucleus of players but also the people in the front office and just continue to work, roll up my sleeves and I'm just anxious to get to work and that process has already started. I came in on Monday and we've had meetings medical staff, we had meetings with our personnel departments, meetings with the coaches and continue to get to know the roster better. I have a knowledge of the roster. We played you guys, we played us twice, we played us twice and so I have knowledge of the roster but you don't really know the roster fully until you get in the building, get to know the coaches, get to know the players on a more intimate level and so I'm anxious to get to do that and I just know that the commitment from Mr. Ross is there for the resources for us to build a championship team. I know the team is in place. People that can complement and work together under a unified vision to bring the championship back to Miami. This is a passionate fan base. Every time I've been to a Miami Dolphin game when we played you guys you just notice the passion because it's a passion based on history and success and I don't take the charge of being the General Manager lightly and you know building that champion that our passionate fan base deserves and that this city deserves and that South Florida deserves."

HEAD COACH JOE PHILBIN

College .....Washington & Jefferson

NFL .....11th Season

Dolphins .....Second Season

Finishing his second season as head coach of the Miami Dolphins, Joe Philbin led the team to an 8-8 record in 2013. It marked the second straight season the Dolphins improved their win total under Philbin, and he became the Dolphins' first coach to improve the team's record two consecutive years since the 1997 and 1998 campaigns. In addition, the Dolphins were one of only four teams in the NFL this year (along with Seattle, Cincinnati, and Carolina) to improve their record for a second straight season.

The Dolphins got off to a 3-0 start, the first time since 2002 they won their first three games. Philbin rallied the team through a variety of challenges in the middle of the campaign, winning five times in a seven-game stretch in November and December and keeping the team in playoff contention the entire season.

Along the way, the Dolphins improved in a number of key areas. Philbin emphasized the importance of takeaways throughout the year and the defense responded by recording a takeaway in 15 of their 16 games, one of only five NFL teams to accomplish that feat in 2013. In addition, the Dolphins improved their turnover ratio by a +8 margin from the previous season, the eighth best turnover improvement in the league.

As a mark of the team's discipline, in 2013 the Dolphins tied for the third least penalized team in the league. In fact, in Philbin's two years at the helm of the team, the Dolphins recorded 152 penalties for 1,322 yards, both of which were the second lowest figures in the NFL in that span, behind only the Atlanta Falcons' 146 penalties for 1,203 yards.

The Dolphins finished third in the AFC in scoring defense, while limiting opponents to a 77.3 passer rating, the third lowest total in the AFC and the fifth lowest total in the NFL. The Dolphins also had the best two-minute offense in the NFL, producing a league-high 36 points in drives that began with two minutes or less left in the half or the game.

Individually, quarterback Ryan Tannehill continued his development under Philbin's direction, becoming only the second Dolphin QB in team history (along with Dan Marino) to throw for 24 or more touchdowns in a season. In addition, in his two years playing under Philbin, Tannehill has thrown for a total of 7,207 yards, the fifth highest total by an NFL quarterback in his first two seasons in league history. Brian Hartline notched his second consecutive 1,000-yard receiving season, only the fifth time that has been accomplish in Dolphin annals. In addition, Charles Clay developed into one of the premier tight ends in the league, while center Mike Pouncey was named to his first Pro Bowl team.

Defensively, two Dolphins – defensive end Cameron Wake and cornerback Brent Grimes – were named to the Pro Bowl as a result of their outstanding season-long play. Three players – linebacker Philip Wheeler, safety Reshad Jones, and linebacker Dannell Ellerbe – each registered 100 or more tackles, and Olivier Vernon blossomed into one of the best pass-rushing defensive linemen in the league.

On special teams, punter Brandon Fields earned his first Pro Bowl selection while finishing second in the NFL in punting with an average of 48.8 yards per kick, while kicker Caleb Sturgis notched 111 points, the second-highest point total by a Dolphin rookie in club history.

In 2012, in Philbin's first year as an NFL head coach, the Dolphins finished in second place in the AFC East with a 7-9 record. Working with one of the youngest rosters in the NFL, Philbin had the Dolphins in playoff contention until the penultimate week of the season while improving the team's record from the previous year.

Under Philbin's leadership, the team finished tied for first in the AFC in touchdowns allowed by defense (32), and its 42.6% of red zone touchdowns allowed was the lowest figure in the NFL. Defensively, the team ranked third overall in the AFC in points allowed per game (19.8), and the team's 36.6% third down conversion rate against was the sixth best in the AFC and the tenth best mark in franchise history. In addition, the Dolphins had the third fewest penalties in the NFL in 2012.

Also under Philbin's guidance, Tannehill set franchise rookie records in several offensive categories and became the first quarterback in Dolphins history to start in all of the team's games in his first year in the league. In addition, Wake recorded 15 sacks to finish fourth in the NFL in that category while earning a starting role on the AFC's Pro Bowl team. For the third time in team history, the Dolphins had four players with 95 or more tackles.

The special teams unit also excelled under Philbin's direction, as Marcus Thigpen became the first Dolphin to return a punt and a kickoff for a touchdown in the same season. Fields' average of 50.2 yards per punt not only led the NFL, but was the highest single season punting average in team history.

Philbin was named the tenth head coach in Miami Dolphins history on January 20, 2012. As a measure of the respect Philbin earned in his first year as the team's head coach, he was named to the Coaches Subcommittee of the NFL Competition Committee by Commissioner Roger Goodell on April 15, 2013. He also was chosen by the league to make a presentation at the NFL Career Development Symposium at the Wharton School of Business that May.

Prior to joining the Dolphins, Philbin served as the Green Bay Packers' offensive coordinator from 2007-11. He originally joined the Packers on February 10, 2003 as assistant offensive line coach. He was elevated to tight ends/assistant offensive line coach on February 27, 2004. Packers Head Coach Mike McCarthy promoted Philbin to offensive line coach on January 17, 2006, and then to offensive coordinator on January 15, 2007.

From 2007-11, Philbin directed an offensive unit which ranked in the top 10 in both total yards and total points, one of only two teams in the league (New England) to accomplish that feat during that period. Green Bay's point total (2,263) was third in the league over that five-year span, trailing only New England (2,457) and New Orleans (2,283).

Green Bay reached the playoffs in four of Philbin's five seasons as offensive coordinator. In three of those appearances, the Packers set team postseason records for most points in a game, with 42 vs. Seattle in 2007, 45 at Arizona in 2009, and 48 at Atlanta in 2010.

During his five seasons as offensive coordinator, a total of 12 Packers were selected to the Pro Bowl, including wide receiver Greg Jennings (second appearance), fullback John Kuhn (first), quarterback Aaron Rodgers (second) and center Scott Wells (first), in 2011.

In 2011, the Packers set single-season franchise records for regular-season games won (15), total points (560), average points per game (35.0), total points at home (321), average points per game at home (40.1), touchdowns (64), net passing yards (4,924) and fewest giveaways (14). The 2011 season marked the third straight campaign (2009-11) that the Packers averaged at least 250.0 net passing yards. Prior to that three-year span, Green Bay had never accomplished that feat in consecutive seasons.

Rodgers established himself as one of the league's elite passers in 2011 as he posted a 122.5 passer rating, the best single-season mark in NFL history. He set an NFL single-season record with 13 games with a 100-plus quarterback rating and 12 games with 110-plus rating. He also set franchise marks with 4,643 passing yards and 45 TDs while becoming the only quarterback in NFL history to pass for 4,000+ yards and have six or fewer INTs.

Green Bay's 6,482 total net yards in 2011 ranks first in franchise history, besting the 2004 total of 6,357 yards. The Packers' 560 points for the 2011 season ranks third in NFL single-season annals behind only the 2007 New England Patriots (589) and the 2013 Denver Broncos (606). With 70 total touchdowns in 2011, Green Bay tied the 1984 Miami Dolphins for the third-most TDs in a season in NFL history, behind only the 2007 New England Patriots (75 TDs) and the 2013 Denver Broncos (76). The Packers' turnover differential of plus-24 in 2011 tied for the second-best in franchise history behind only the plus-26 margin in 1943.

In 2010, en route to the franchise's 13th world championship, the Packers finished with the NFL's fifth-ranked passing offense at 257.8 yards per contest. It was the first time in franchise history that the Packers averaged 250.0 net passing yards in back-to-back seasons. Rodgers finished in the top 10 in nearly every passing category, falling just 78 yards short of his third straight 4,000-yard season despite missing one-and-half games due to a concussion. The Packers also posted two 45-point games during the regular season, the first time Green Bay had accomplished that feat since 1983.

From 2008-09, the Packers became the first team in league history to have a 4,000-yard passer (Rodgers), a 1,200-yard rusher (Ryan Grant) and two 1,000-yard receivers (Greg Jennings, Donald Driver) in back-to-back seasons. The 2009 unit was particularly prolific, compiling a then-franchise-record 461 points and gaining 6,065 total net yards, which at the time was the third-most in team history. The 2009 offense also led the league in time of possession (33:03) and in fewest turnovers (16), both franchise bests.

In 2007, behind quarterback Brett Favre's MVP-caliber season, the offense ranked second in the NFL in total yards. That ranking was Green Bay's highest since 1983, while the 5,931 net yards and 435 total points both rank fourth on the franchise's single-season list. Favre's 4,155 yards passing that year combined with Rodgers' 4,038 yards in 2008 marked the first time in league history a team had different 4,000-yard passers in consecutive years.

Philbin's move from offensive line coach to offensive coordinator helped maintain continuity with the young offensive linemen and zone-blocking scheme. In 2006, Philbin oversaw a line that had three rookies (Daryn Colledge, Jason Spitz and Tony Moll) combine for 38 starts. Despite injuries that led to five different starting combinations, the Packers allowed only 24 sacks and improved their run production by a half-yard per carry.

In 2005, Philbin's tight ends contributed to a passing game hampered by injuries. Green Bay joined Tennessee as one of only two NFL teams to have three tight ends record at least 25 receptions each that season, as Philbin effectively blended Donald Lee into the offense despite the tight end's late-preseason arrival.

Philbin's group in 2004 contributed to an offense that racked up more total yards (6,357) and passing yards (4,449) than any team in franchise history to that point. As proved in 2003, the line played an integral role in the NFL's third-ranked offense, including team marks for first downs (354), completions (382) and fewest sacks (14). In 2003, Philbin's teaching played a role in a rushing offense that improved from 12th the year before to third in the NFL, proving to be one of the best lines in team history.

Philbin came to Green Bay after four seasons as offensive line coach at the University of Iowa (1999-2002). Under Philbin's stewardship, Iowa fielded one of college football's finest offensive lines in 2002, helping the Hawkeyes finish second in the Big Ten Conference in rushing (214.2 yards per game). Philbin pupils Eric Steinbach, Robert Gallery and Bruce Nelson earned three of the five first-team All-Big Ten linemen spots, while Steinbach earned consensus All-America honors. Over the next two years, all three were selected in the first two rounds of the NFL Draft.

Prior to coaching at Iowa, Philbin served as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at Harvard University (1997-98). Under his direction in 1997, the Crimson established 15 offensive records. Five members of his offensive squad earned All-Ivy League honors, including Matt Birk, a 1998 draft choice and six-time Pro Bowl selection.

Philbin was offensive coordinator/offensive line coach at Northeastern University (1995-96) and offensive line coach at Ohio University (1994). He also spent four seasons (1990-93) at Allegheny College, highlighted by two undefeated regular seasons and an NCAA Division III national championship in 1990.

Born in Springfield, Mass., Philbin is a 1984 graduate of Washington & Jefferson College (Pa.), where he played tight end (1980). He also possesses a master's degree in education from Tulane University (1986). He is married to Diane, and the couple has five children, Matthew, John, Kevin, Tim, Colleen and a deceased son, Michael.

The Dolphins couldn't quite come all the way back from a 17-0 deficit, but they accomplished a lot of good things nonetheless in their preseason opener. Two costly first-half turnovers proved the difference in the outcome as the Dallas Cowboys held on for a 24-20 victory in a Hall of Fame Game that featured a wild finish. After scoring 10 points in the fourth quarter to pull within 17-13, the Dolphins had a chance to take their first lead after beginning a drive at their own 37 with just over three minutes left, but running back Jonas Gray was dropped for a 2-yard loss after catching a swing pass from Matt Moore on fourth-and-3. Dallas then put together a quick touchdown drive to make it 24-13, but the Dolphins refused to quit. Moore quickly threw passes of 24 yards to tight end Kyle Miller and 27 yards to Keenan Davis to set up a 5-yard TD pass to tight end Kyle Miller on fourth-and-goal. The Dolphins' first touchdown came with 9:26 left in the fourth quarter on a 5-yard pass from Pat Devlin to Davis on fourth-and-goal. Davis, a rookie from the University of Iowa, was signed by the Dolphins on Wednesday. Trailing 17-3, the Dolphins had gone for it on fourth-and-6 from the Dallas 8-yard line late in the third quarter but Chad Bumphis was stopped 1 yard short of the first down after catching a pass from Devlin. Dan Carpenter added two field goals for the Dolphins, hitting from 27 yards in the second quarter and 45 yards in the fourth. Among the players who stood out for the Dolphins on Sunday were Derrick Shelby , who got the start at defensive end and responded with two sacks in the first half; Gray, who had a 29-yard run in the fourth quarter and also had three catches for 37 yards; and Bumphis, who had five catches for 85 yards, including a 45-yard gain in the second quarter. First-round pick Dion Jordan also had an impressive outing in his first game in a Dolphins uniform. The defensive end showed off his versatility, rushing the passer on most downs but also dropping back in coverage at times. He was particularly effective during a Dallas series near the end of the first half. Jordan was on the receiving end of a hands-to-the-face penalty on a Cowboys lineman on first down; stopped running back Joseph Randle after a 4-yard gain on first-and-18; then made the tackle on Randle 5 yards short of the first down after dropping back as a linebacker on third-and-15. Jordan also provided the initial pressure on the play that resulted in Shelby's second sack. The Dolphins trailed 17-3 at the half despite outgaining Dallas by 62 yards (197-135), the result of two turnovers that led to Cowboys touchdowns.

Miami Dolphins lose turnover battle, fall 24-20 to Dallas Cowboys in preseason opener

August 4, 2013|By Andrew Abramson, Staff writer

CANTON, OHIO — Dolphins coach Joe Philbin said takeaways will define his team this season.

After Miami had 10 more turnovers than takeaways last year, Philbin said the Dolphins must reverse the trend to have any shot at a successful season.

But it was more of the same in Sunday night's preseason opener as the Dolphins turned the ball over twice in the first half while not forcing a turnover in the game, falling 24-20 to Dallas.

The Dolphins played mostly second- and third-teamers, as did the Cowboys, so it's difficult to take too much away from the game at Fawcett Stadium.

Takeaways, however, have been a top theme at training camp for starters and reserves, and Miami failed its first test.

"Two turnovers and poor tackling, and (we've) got to play a lot better," Philbin said at halftime.

"Turnovers were the name of the game in the first half," Cowboys coach Jason Garrett said.

The tone was set from the start. Dallas made it to Miami's 36-yard line on its opening drive as new starting linebacker Philip Wheeler was exposed on several plays. The Cowboys, who went with many second-teamers on both sides of the ball to start the game, ultimately punted, and then the Dolphins fumbled on the first play of their opening drive.

Quarterback Ryan Tannehill was charged with the fumble on a botched handoff to Lamar Miller. The Cowboys recovered at the Dolphins' 9-yard line, and Phillip Tanner later scored on a 1-yard run for a 7-0 lead.

Miller came back on the next drive with consecutive 11- and 10-yard gains, and he looked like the unchallenged starter at running back. Miller wouldn't return after that, and Tannehill was taken out early on the next drive and replaced by Matt Moore.

Aside from Miller's runs, the Dolphins did few things right on offense. The offensive line, one of Miami's biggest question marks heading into the preseason, struggled. Moore was forced to scramble often as the Dolphins tried different rotations on the line.

Miami has been shuffling its offensive line in practice ever since right guard John Jerry went out with a knee injury. On Sunday, the Dolphins started Josh Samuda, last year's backup center, at right guard.

New starting left tackle Jonathan Martin, a second-year player who has had an inconsistent training camp, came out early with the rest of the starters. While he was on the field, Martin failed to give Tannehill much time to throw.

Undrafted rookie receiver Keenan Davis scored a fourth-quarter touchdown on a 5-yard pass from third-string quarterback Pat Devlin. Tight end Kyler Miller also had a 5-yard TD catch, on a pass from Moore, with 22 seconds left in the game. The Dolphins' onside kick attempt didn't work, and the Cowboys ran out the clock.

Moore threw a first-half interception, but most of the blame for that falls on rookie receiver Chad Bumphis, who couldn't hold on to the ball. Cowboys linebacker DeVonte Holloman caught the ball and returned it 75 yards for a TD to put Dallas ahead 17-0 in the second quarter.

Bumphis otherwise had a strong performance, making five catches for 85 yards.

The Dolphins sat six starters: receivers Mike Wallace and Brian Hartline; linebacker Dannell Ellerbe; defensive tackles Randy Starks and Jared Odrick; and defensive end Olivier Vernon. Wallace, Hartline, Starks and Odrick were expected to miss the game, but Ellerbe and Vernon were surprise scratches. The team didn't say why they sat, but a source said Vernon has a groin injury.

Second-year defensive end Derrick Shelby — not No. 3 overall pick Dion Jordan — started in Vernon's place. Shelby, who had eight tackles as an undrafted rookie last year, made the most of his playing time and had two sacks. Jordan also looked aggressive, and his pressure resulted in one of Shelby's sacks.

Dustin Keller caught a 22-yard touchdown pass, Jonas Gray had two short TD runs, rookie Caleb Sturgis hit field goals of 58 and 36 yards, and the Dolphins were plus-3 in the turnover ratio as they beat the Jaguars 27-3 at EverBank Field. After failing to come up with a takeaway against Dallas, the Dolphins had four against Jacksonville, including fumble recoveries by rookie Michael Clay and John Denney on special teams after muffed punts. On defense, cornerback Nolan Carroll and rookie Will Davis came up with interceptions. Davis, who has recorded a half-dozen picks over the last two weeks of practice, had a good night all around as he also knocked down a third-down pass while blitzing. The Dolphins' first-team defense didn't come up with a takeaway but had a good showing nonetheless, holding Jacksonville to only one first down and 14 total yards in three possessions. The Dolphins' first-team offense played four possessions against Jacksonville and Ryan Tannehill completed 5 of 9 passes for 75 yards with one touchdown and no interceptions. After recording only one first down on its first three possessions, the Dolphins offense got things rolling. Starting at their own 20 for the fourth consecutive drive, the Dolphins got into Jacksonville territory when Tannehill hit Keller with a beautiful touch pass down the middle of the field for 24 yards. Two good runs by Daniel Thomas gained an additional 17 yards and after a pass interference penalty gave the Dolphins a first down, Tannehill hit Keller for the touchdown. Keller caught the low pass while falling backward in the end zone after Tannehill rolled to his right. The Dolphins didn't have to go nearly as far on their next drive, starting at the Jaguars 47-yard line after Carroll's interception. A 27-yard completion from Matt Moore to Brian Tyms was the key play in the drive, and that was followed by a 12-yard run by Marvin McNutt on an end-around before Gray punched it in from the 1-yard line to make it 14-0. Gray's second touchdown came from 2 yards out in the fourth quarter after Denney's fumble recovery gave the Dolphins a first-and-goal at the Jacksonville 4-yard line. Gray's touchdown closed out the scoring in the Dolphins' most lopsided preseason victory since they beat Kansas City 24-0 in Miami in 2008. Jacksonville got on the scoreboard in the second quarter after a long drive, but rookie defensive end Emeka Onyenekwu came up big on a third-and-2 from the Miami 4-yard line when he stuffed fullback Lonnie Pryor for a 1-yard loss. The Jaguars reached the Miami 19-yard line on their first drive of the second half, but the scoring threat ended when rookie kicker Adam Yates badly missed on a 37-yard field goal attempt. Jacksonville didn't reach its own 40-yard line on offense again until after the two-minute warning.

Dolphins dominate turnover battle, Jaguars

August 9, 2013|By Chris Perkins, Staff writer

JACKSONVILLE - When Dolphins cornerback Nolan Carroll intercepted a deflected pass in Friday's game at Jacksonville, it represented a promising step in the team's development. Takeaways are a rarity for Miami.

And when the offense turned Carroll's interception into a touchdown, well, that was a giant leap forward. Touchdowns are also a rarity.

So, too, was the 58-yard field goal by rookie kicker Caleb Sturgis.

Yes, there were a few promising signs in the Dolphins' 27-3 victory at Jacksonville on Friday, much more promising than what Miami showed in last week's 24-20 loss to Dallas in the Hall of Fame game, which means things might be moving in the right direction overall.

Among the priorities for coach Joe Philbin against the Jaguars were his team getting off to a fast start, winning the turnover battle, and improved tackling.

Miami accomplished Philbin's first goal, kind of, by jumping out to a 14-0 lead, a stark contrast to a week ago when the Dolphins fell behind the Cowboys, 17-0, and seemed to be sleepwalking through the first half.

"Offensively we got off to a slow start honestly," said Philbin, who got his first pre-season victory after an 0-5 start, "but got it going there and we put together a nice drive. Our defense played well initially and has kept them out of the end zone. Even though we gave up a bunch of yards on a long drive, we kept them out of the end zone."

Quarterback Ryan Tannehill overcame an uneven performance by the offensive line (they were shaky early but ended up OK) to go 5-for-9 passing for 75 yards with one touchdown and no interceptions. He ended with a 120.1 passer rating and his decision-making, for the most part, was good.

"We started off slow, didn't get off to the start we wanted to but finally got settled in, did what we want to do with the ball down the field and capped it off with a touchdown," Tannehill said.

Tannehill and the starting offense played four series against Jacksonville and appeared as though they're progressing at a decent level. Tight end Dustin Keller, not wide receiver Mike Wallace, the $60 million man, was the star receiver with two receptions for 46 yards, including a 22-yard touchdown pass from Tannehill.

Miami scored its first touchdown as the result of a seven-play, 80-yard drive, culminating in Keller's 22-yard touchdown reception.

Not long after that, and soon after Carroll's interception, the Dolphins had a five-play, 47-yard drive that ended with a 1-yard touchdown run by Gray.

By halftime the Dolphins led, 14-3, and were plus-one in turnover margin, an advantage that was later erased when backup quarterback Matt Moore threw a third-quarter interception.

But Miami took the turnover edge again when linebacker Michael Clay recovered a fumble by wide receiver Tobias Palmer on a punt return. That led to Sturgis' 58-yard field goal, which gave the Dolphins a 17-3 lead.

Then came rookie cornerback Will Davis' at the Dolphins' 37-yard line. Davis has been making a name for himself in practice, at one point recording five interceptions in a three-day stretch.

And then came the final takeaway. Deep snapper John Denney recovered a fumbled punt to set the Dolphins up at the 7-yard line. Two plays later Gray crashed into the end zone for a 27-3 lead.

It was the same thing with the tackling, which was improved. The Dolphins didn't miss tackles nearly to the degree they did a week ago.

When the Dolphins lost to Dallas in the Hall of Fame game they ended up minus-2 in the takeaway-giveaway margin, didn't tackle well and got off to a slow start. Philbin cited each of those areas as places for improvement.

On Friday, the Dolphins showed improvement, especially when it comes to their plus-3 giveaway/takeaway margin, a sizeable change from last season's minus-10.

"That's obviously the way we love to play the game," Philbin said.

TEXANS 24, DOLPHINS 17

Reliant Stadium
Houston Texas

Mike Wallace caught his first three passes of the preseason on a drive that ended with his 9-yard touchdown and fellow wide receiver Brandon Gibson made two big catches on the Dolphins' other scoring drive of the first half in a 24-17 loss at Reliant Stadium. Wallace, caught three passes for 58 yards on a TD drive that tied the game at 7-7. For good measure, Wallace threw a nice block on Lamar Miller's 4-yard touchdown run in the second quarter when he pushed a defensive back to the sideline to allow Miller to cut back inside. Gibson, meanwhile, had catches of 15 and 17 yards on the drive that tied the score at 14-14. The drive was kept alive by a nifty 27-yard catch-and-run by Daniel Thomas off a shovel pass from Tannehill on third-and-13. Tannehill, whose first regular season start as an NFL player came last September at Reliant Stadium, played five offensive series and finished the game 10-for-15 for 141 yards and no interceptions. He also had a nice scramble when he avoided a sack and instead gained 6 yards on the play before he hit Wallace for 33 yards. It was the second consecutive week Tannehill and the first-team offense left the game after a touchdown drive. Backup Matt Moore finished 3-for-11 for 15 yards in two quarters of action and was sacked four times. Aaron Corp, re-signed a few days ago, took over for Moore for the Dolphins' last drive and fumbled on first-and-10 from the Houston 40-yard line after scrambling out of the pocket, all but sealing the Texans victory. The Texans' first two drives were stopped by two big plays by two of the Dolphins' biggest names on defense. Cornerback Brent Grimes, another free agent acquisition, came up with an interception to stop the first before two-time Pro Bowl selection Cameron Wake sacked Matt Schaub on third down to end the second. The Dolphins' backups on defense didn't fare as well, giving up three touchdown passes, including a 38-yard hook-up from Case Keenum to Lestar Jean on fourth-and-2 and a 33-yard connection from T.J. Yates to tight end Garrett Graham in the third quarter. The two plays that stood out for the defensive backups were a fumble recovery by Lee Robinson after fellow linebacker Josh Kaddu stripped running back Dennis Johnson on a rushing attempt and a sack by rookie defensive end Tristan Okpalaugo, the third consecutive preseason game he brought down an opposing quarterback. Robinson's fumble recovery set up the Dolphins' only score of the second half, a 43-yard field goal by rookie Caleb Sturgis.

Dustin Keller injured in Miami Dolphins' preseason loss to Houston Texans

August 17, 2013|By Adam Beasley, Staff writer

HOUSTON -- The only memory most will have of the Dolphins' third exhibition game was Dustin Keller's gruesome knee injury.

But before Keller was carted off the Reliant Stadium field Saturday night, two other key free agent pickups — Mike Wallace and Brent Grimes — showed glimpses of why the Dolphins opened up their wallets in the offseason.

Wallace had three catches for 58 yards — including a 9-yard touchdown grab — and Grimes made a diving interception to snuff out the Texans' first drive.

For Grimes, the play was a payoff worthy of the work he has put in during training camp. Grimes, who has less than a year removed from a torn Achilles tendon, has been far and away the team's best corner in practice.

Said Grimes of the interception, "I just read the route and broke. ... It's always a positive when you can get interceptions, turnovers."

Wallace's emergence, however, was even more notable. He had missed the first preseason game with a groin injury and didn't have a catch in his Dolphins debut a week ago.

Earlier in the week, he and Ryan Tannehill were forced to answer questions why. They silenced those doubts with one beautiful throw.

On the Dolphins' third series, Wallace got behind Johnathan Joseph on a deep sideline route and pulled in a rainbow pass from Tannehill. The completion was good for 33 yards.

Three plays later, they hooked up again — this time for a touchdown. Wallace shook free of coverage and reeled in a laser throw from Tannehill.

Yet when asked by CBS-4 at halftime about Wallace's production, Dolphins coach Joe Philbin praised an underappreciated part of their $60 million man's game.

"He had on the touchdown run down here in the end zone, he had an outstanding block, which is something that a receiver has to do as well," Philbin said.

By touchdown run, Philbin was referring to a 4-yard dash by Lamar Miller. But that score was far less celebrated; it came on the drive Keller got hurt.

Early in Miami's fifth possession, Keller went down after taking D.J. Swearinger's helmet to his right knee.

The severity of the injury was not immediately known, but ESPN reported midway through the second half that Keller was set to undergo an MRI late Saturday night.

"You all saw Dustin get carted off the field," Philbin said. "You hate to see any player in that situation. We're all wishing Dustin well, and we're hoping his return is sooner rather than later."

If lost for the season, it would be a tough blow for Tannehill, who had his best game of the preseason. Tannehill completed 10 of 15 passes for 141 yards and the touchdown, good for a quarterback rating of 119. He had targeted Keller twice, completing one pass for 14 yards.

Meanwhile, Daniel Thomas continued his preseason ascent, rushing for 25 yards on four carries. He appears to be gaining on Miller for the starting running back job. Miller had just 10 yards on five carries.

"He is running the ball hard," Philbin said of Thomas.

The first-string offense certainly finished better than it started. Josh Samuda surrendered a sack to Antonio Smith on the second play from scrimmage, leading to a three-and-out. Back-to-back penalties doomed the next possession before it even started.

As for the defense? It had no trouble getting revved up. After Grimes' pick — he leapt in front of DeAndre Hopkins for the interception — the Dolphins forced a punt on Houston's second possession.

Cameron Wake got into the act with a drive-ending sack. And the starting defense's night was done before the first quarter ended.

But the first-string offense, which had just one score on its first nine drives of the preseason, needed a wake-up call.

Wallace sounded the alarm.

Almost all of the Dolphins' starters were pulled after halftime of the 17-16 loss against the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, but there was a lot of good work accomplished while they were in there. Tampa Bay's game-winning touchdown — a 12-yard pass from rookie quarterback Mike Glennon to David Douglas with 1:03 left — was set up by a 55-yard return by safety Sean Baker after he recovered a Jonas Gray fumble late in the fourth quarter. It was the third turnover by the Dolphins, but overall Miami had a positive night on offense and defense. The Dolphins dominated Tampa Bay when both first teams were in the game, and only a couple of special teams miscues and problems in the red zone kept Miami from having a bigger lead than 13-10. The numbers illustrate how the Dolphins controlled play in the first two quarters, with Miami recording advantages of 15-6 in first downs, 180-63 in total yardage and 18:04-11:56 in time of possession. Quarterback Ryan Tannehill had a strong outing, completing 17 of 27 passes for 150 yards with one touchdown and no interceptions. He had great success connecting with his wide receivers, with Brandon Gibson, Brian Hartline and Mike Wallace combining for 12 receptions. Gibson gave the Dolphins their 13-10 lead when he scored on a 4-yard touchdown pass with 10 seconds left in the first half. The catch gave Gibson five catches in the first half.

Earlier in the first half, Gibson had failed to hang on to a pass in the end zone on third down, forcing the Dolphins to settle for a field goal. That came after the Dolphins had a first-and-goal from the Tampa Bay 7-yard line. On the first drive of the game, the Dolphins put together an impressive 17-play drive but had to settle for a field goal after having a first-and-goal from the 5-yard line. The first-team defense, meanwhile, held Tampa Bay running backs Brian Leonard and Mike James to 18 yards rushing on 12 attempts and sacked quarterback Josh Freeman three times. Odrick and Olivier Vernon recorded the first two sacks, while the third was a fluky play that set up Miami's first touchdown of the game. Freeman simply lost control of the ball in the pocket and Derrick Shelby recovered the fumble at the Tampa Bay 48 with 1:29 left in the first half. Safety Kelcie McCray and linebackers Jonathan Freeny and Josh Kaddu added sacks for the Dolphins in the second half. Rookie cornerbacks Jamar Taylor and Will Davis, meanwhile, had nice pass breakups. Rookie kicker Caleb Sturgis finished the night 3-for-3 on field goal attempts after adding a 28-yarder in the fourth quarter. The second half was quiet on both sides from an offensive standpoint, but the Dolphins had a nice conversion of a third-and-12 in the fourth quarter when Mike Gillislee gained 21 yards on a screen pass.

Miami Dolphins turn in uneven performance in 17-16 preseason loss to Tampa Bay

August 24, 2013|By Andrew Abramson, Staff writer

If Saturday night's dress rehearsal was any indication, the Dolphins head into the regular season far from a finished product.

Miami's starting defense, expected to be the team's strength this season, gave up just 26 rushing yards and 51 passing yards in the Dolphins' 17-16 loss to Tampa Bay. The Dolphins were winning 13-10 at halftime when the starters were pulled.

But Miami's offense had its ups and downs. Quarterback Ryan Tannehill went 17-for-27 for 150 yards and a touchdown but was clearly missing tight end Dustin Keller, who was lost for the season after tearing three knee ligaments against Houston in the previous exhibition game. Charles Clay, starting in Keller's place, was targeted six times but had just one reception for 5 yards.

Brandon Gibson, Miami's slot receiver, had five receptions for 43 yards and a touchdown but dropped another potential TD pass in the end zone. Gibson was already expected to be a key part of Miami's offense, but without Keller he will be Tannehill's main target in the middle. Tannehill finished with a 90.0 quarterback rating.

If Tannehill or Miami's passing game struggle at all this season, the team will have to turn to a questionable running game, although a clear-cut starter might have emerged Saturday. Running back Lamar Miller probably clinched the starting job with eight carries for 35 yards and 4.4 yards per carry. But it wasn't a great performance for Miller, who picked up 20 of his 35 yards on his first carry.

Miller twice was stuffed in the red zone on Miami's opening drive. The Dolphins were forced to kick a field goal, wasting a 17-play drive that also included a fourth-down conversion from Tampa Bay's 12-yard line on a 7-yard Brian Hartline reception.

"We have to be able — when we get a first and goal inside the 10-yard line — to punch it in and get a touchdown," coach Joe Philbin said.

Daniel Thomas, competing with Miller at running back, averaged 0.4 yards per carry with seven rushes for 3 yards. Thomas had two receptions for 12 yards.

The Dolphins dominated time of possession in the first half but had a couple of special-teams breakdowns that kept the game close.

After Caleb Sturgis hit a 22-yard field goal on the opening drive, the Dolphins forced Tampa Bay to punt on its first drive. But Miami muffed the punt after cornerback Nolan Carroll was engaged with a Bucs defender and hit his own teammate, Dolphins punt returner Marcus Thigpen.

Thigpen then fumbled on another punt return early in the second quarter.

Very frustrating," Philbin said. "We had a good week of preparation, special teams included. It's disappointing that we would give the ball away twice."

The Dolphins trailed 10-3 midway through the second quarter when Gibson couldn't hold on to a 5-yard pass from Tannehill in the end zone and the Dolphins had to kick another field goal. Sturgis made a 23-yarder, and Miami cut the lead to 10-6.

Miami finally scored a touchdown at the end of the second quarter when, after the Dolphins' Derrick Shelby recovered a fumble in Bucs territory, Tannehill hit Gibson in the middle for a 4-yard TD. Miami's starters exited the game with the team leading 13-10.

Gibson led the team in receptions and Hartline was next with four catches for 40 yards. Mike Wallace had three receptions for 31 yards.

The Dolphins took out most of their offensive starters at halftime and let third-string quarterback Pat Devlin, and not backup Matt Moore, play the second half.

The Dolphins are deciding whether to keep just two quarterbacks on their roster. Devlin went 12-of-21 for 114 yards with one interception.

Miami has 84 players on its roster and has to trim it to 75 by 4 p.m. Tuesday. The Dolphins then have to cut the roster to 53 by 6 p.m. Sept. 1.

Miami will play its final preseason game Thursday night against New Orleans at Sun Life Stadium, though the starters will likely sit or play limited time.

Quarterback Pat Devlin thought his night of work was over when he was replaced midway through the fourth quarter. Instead, he was called back into action and led the Dolphins to a come-from-behind victory over the New Orleans Saints in the preseason finale Thursday night. Devlin, who was on the sideline for only one play to watch Aaron Corp get injured on a sack, threw a 56-yard touchdown pass to Marvin McNutt and then added a two-point conversion on a run to give the Dolphins a 24-21 victory at Sun Life Stadium. The Dolphins secured the victory with a defensive stand after New Orleans drove inside the Miami 10-yard line in the final minute. Cornerback De'Andre Presley sealed the victory with an interception at the 6-yard line. It was a doubly satisfying interception for Presley after a mental mistake he made earlier in the fourth quarter. With the Dolphins leading 16-7, Presley was right on top of a loose ball in the Miami end zone after a fumble by Saints running back Khiry Robinson but tried to grab the ball and start running instead of simply falling on it. After he failed to handle the ball cleanly, offensive lineman Tom Lelito recovered the fumble for a New Orleans touchdown. Presley wasn't about to let the interception slip through his fingers. Devlin got the start with both quarterback Ryan Tannehill and Matt Moore given the night off, along with almost every Dolphins player listed first on the depth chart. The only two exceptions were guard John Jerry and fullback Evan Rodriguez. Devlin ended the game with 22 completions in 38 attempts for 259 yards with two touchdowns and two interceptions, while McNutt finished with 99 yards receiving on four receptions. Rookie tight end Dion Sims was the offensive star for the Dolphins in the first half, catching four passes for 36 yards and a touchdown. Caleb Sturgis added three field goals, completing the preseason at 9-for-9 on field goal attempts, to stake the Dolphins to a 16-7 lead before New Orleans scored twice in a span of 2:54 early in the fourth quarter to take a 21-16 lead. The Dolphins defense stripped him of the ball on a running play, and Tristan Okpalaugo's fumble recovery set up Sturgis' first field goal. Linebacker Jason Trusnik and safety Keelan Johnson also had fumble recoveries for the Dolphins. Devlin throwing an interception at the goal line on the other. New Orleans got inside the Miami 40-yard line twice in the third quarter, but one drive ended in a missed 55-yard field goal attempt and an incompletion on a fourth-and-3. The Saints began their fourth-quarter comeback with the Lelito touchdown. A 53-yard completion set up New Orleans' next touchdown, a 2-yard pass from Griffin to fullback Austin Johnson.

Pat Devlin impresses as Miami Dolphins defeat Saints in preseason finale

August 29, 2013|By Adam Beasley, Staff writer

A meaningless preseason finale? Certainly not for Pat Devlin.

He might have saved his job with one heroic heave.

Devlin connected with Marvin McNutt on a 56-yard touchdown late in the fourth quarter, rallying the Dolphins past New Orleans 24-21 on Thursday night.

McNutt, also vying for a roster spot, simply ran past the secondary on fourth-and-4, caught the sideline pass in stride and into the end zone.

Then, on the ensuing two-point conversion, Devlin had no one open, so he tucked the ball and dove into the end zone. The conversion put Miami up three — but there would be no overtime. De'Andre Presley sealed the game with an interception with less than one minute remaining.

Just how high were the stakes for Devlin, the third-year quarterback out of Delaware? Coach Joe Philbin said there had to be some "compelling reason" to keep a third quarterback on the roster. Devlin might have done that with one throw.

"We're going to have some tough decisions," Philbin said. "Pat has an excellent mastery of the system. He's got very good poise. He stepped up and made a play when we had to have one."

The Dolphins gave Ryan Tannehill and Matt Moore the night off, so Devlin played well into the second half. His night appeared done when he was pulled in favor of Aaron Corp, but Corp sustained an arm injury, thrusting Devlin back into action.

Devlin finished 22 of 38 for 259 yards, two touchdowns and two interceptions. Four of those completions went to McNutt, who had 99 yards and the score.

"I didn't want to push," Devlin said. "I didn't want to try to throw the ball downfield every play. You just need to play your game."

Early on, Devlin connected with Dion Sims on an 8-yard touchdown pass — a bright spot for a team in need of tight end production.

Sims lined up in the backfield, slipped out into the right flat, caught the pass and rumbled into the end zone. The rookie fourth-round pick finished with four catches for 36 yards.

Others included:

• Rishard Matthews: Probably locked down a spot on the roster as the team's fourth receiver. He might have been the best player on the field in the first half, regularly beating New Orleans defenders. Matthews finished with three catches for 37 yards.

• Brian Tyms: He had four receptions for 30 yards and also drew a defensive pass interference on the Dolphins' first-half touchdown drive. He got the chance to start since Brian Hartline, Mike Wallace and Brandon Gibson were all kept out of harm's way.

• Mike Gillislee: His draft pedigree probably ensured his roster spot, but Gillislee ran hard nonetheless. He had 47 yards on 14 carries. But more importantly, Jonas Gray barely saw the field. All indications are Gillislee will serve as the Dolphins' third running back.

Kudos are owed to Caleb Sturgis, too — even though he won the kicking job a few weeks ago. He was a perfect 3 for 3 on field goals, hitting from 33, 40 and 43 yards.

Things didn't start well for the Dolphins offense — the group somehow turned a game-opening first-and-5 into a three-and-out — and didn't get much better.

On the possession after the touchdown drive, Miami returned to the red zone, but Devlin overthrew Michael Egnew twice — including once when he had his tight end open for a touchdown.

Then after New Orleans turnover, the Dolphins started first-and-goal at the 8. Somehow, the drive resulted in nothing.

Devlin misfired on a third-down fade to Matthews, then threw behind Sims on fourth-and-goal.

Devlin compounded the problem with a drive-killing interception inside the 10 in the second quarter. His other pick came off a deflection in the second half.

Despite blowing a nine-point, fourth-quarter lead, the Dolphins still had the ball with a chance to win. Devlin made it happen.

FirstEnergy Field

It was no secret that the defense for the Miami Dolphins was a strength coming into the 2013 season and that unit held up its end in a season-opening 23-10 win at the Cleveland Browns. Two-time Pro Bowl defensive end Cameron Wake picked up where he left off last season with 2.5 sacks of Browns quarterback Brandon Weeden, almost half of Miami's six sacks on the game. His fellow defensive teammates came up with three interceptions – two by cornerback Dimitri Patterson and one by cornerback Nolan Carroll. Those three turnovers all were forced in the first half when Miami's offense got off to a slow start resulting in just two field goals. Quarterback Ryan Tannehill and his crew found their rhythm in the second half as the second-year starter finished the game completing 24-of-38 passes for 272 yards, one touchdown and one interception. Brian Hartline caught the 34-yard scoring pass and was his leading receiver with nine catches for 114 yards. Rookie kicker Caleb Sturgis had a nice debut going 3-for-3 on field goals with kicks of 37, 45 and 49 yards and booming his kickoffs into the end zone all afternoon.

Dolphins win opener, 23-10, with strong finishing kick

September 8, 2013|By Chris Perkins, Staff writer

CLEVELAND- Midway through the fourth quarter of the Dolphins' 23-10 season-opening victory over Cleveland defensive end Cam Wake ran right through Browns running back Chris Ogbonnaya's would-be block and sacked quarterback Brandon Weeden.

The play was symbolic of how the Dolphins (1-0) ran over the Browns (0-1) the entire fourth quarter, when it really mattered.

"In this league a lot of games are decided in the fourth quarter," coach Joe Philbin said. "It's something we've talked about. We've got to play well in the fourth quarter."

And that's just what the Dolphins did, outscoring the Browns 10-0 in the decisive fourth quarter. In the process they showed backbone and moxie, two traits that haven't surfaced consistently for years.

The Dolphins recorded six sacks, their most since October 2011 and had three interceptions.

There were plenty of heroes. Wake had 2.5 sacks and six quarterback hits. Cornerback Dimitri Patterson had two of the Dolphins' three interceptions (cornerback Nolan Carroll had the other). Takeaways were a huge part of the off-season focus.

"To come out here and get three early," cornerback Brent Grimes said, "that was huge."

Wide receiver Brian Hartline, who hails from nearby Canton, Ohio, finished with nine receptions for 114 yards, including a 34-yard touchdown. Fellow wide receiver Brandon Gibson had seven receptions for 77 yards.

But there were also a few players who weren't heroic. Running backs Lamar Miller (10 carries, three yards) and Daniel Thomas (eight carries, 14 yards) combined for 18 carries for 17 yards. As a team the Dolphins averaged a paltry 0.9 yards per carry.

"That's not a good way to live in the National Football League," Philbin said. "You've got to have balance. Obviously we did not have that today and we need to do a better job there's no question about it."

Wide receiver Mike Wallace, the $60 million man, was upset after the game because he only had one reception for 15 yards.

"It's frustrating for him, and us offensively, as well," quarterback Ryan Tannehill said.

The Dolphins, who trailed, 7-6, at halftime despite three first-half interceptions, entered the fourth quarter with a shaky 13-10 lead. But that's when they progressively got better.

The Dolphins started the fourth quarter with a strong defensive stand, beating back Cleveland's woeful offense with a ferocious pass rush and solid coverage on the Browns' receivers.

Defensive end Derrick Shelby got pressure on Browns quarterback Brandon Weeden (26-for-53, 289 yards, one touchdown, three interceptions), forcing a fumble that left tackle Joe Thomas recovered. It was a pattern throughout the fourth quarter.

The Dolphins had four sacks in the final quarter and held Weeden to 10-for-23 passing, which meant he completed a measly 43.5 percent of his passes down the stretch.

The good defense led to good offense.

Tannehill (24-for-38, 272 yards, one touchdown, one interception) was 6-for-7 passing for 78 yards in the fourth quarter. Shortly after Shelby's big play Tannehill led his sometimes-wobbly offense to a touchdown on a 10-play, 85-yard drive that culminated in running back Daniel Thomas going over the top for a one-yard touchdown run for a 20-10 lead.

After the Dolphins forced Cleveland to turn the ball over on downs at the their own 25 yard line the Dolphins tacked on a 36-yard field goal by rookie kicker Caleb Sturgis (3-for-3 on field goals) to take their lead up to 23-10.

Considering the Dolphins are at Indianapolis next week and then play Atlanta, at New Orleans and Baltimore, this was a crucial victory. There were some definite concerns but overall things went fairly well. The Dolphins won their season opener on the road, and they did it by playing a strong fourth quarter.

"No matter if looked ugly or it looked good it's a win and that's how you want to start out the season," center Mike Pouncey said, "especially with our first five games being so tough."

GAME NO. 2

DOLPHINS 24, COLTS 20
September 15, 2012

Lucas Oil Stadium
Indianapolis, IN

First it was the offense for the Miami Dolphins picking up where it left off last week in Cleveland and jumping on top of the host Indianapolis Colts early. Then the defense took over in the second half and preserved an impressive 24-20 victory on the road. The last time Miami opened the season with back-to-back road wins was in 2010 at the Buffalo Bills and Minnesota Vikings and it's the just the second time in 10 years the team has started a season 2-0. It was a breakout game for high-priced free agent wide receiver Mike Wallace and third-year tight end Charles Clay, while second-year quarterback Ryan Tannehill evened his career record at 1-1 against Colts quarterback Andrew Luck. Tannehill completed 23-of-34 passes for 319 yards, one touchdown and no interceptions, finding Wallace nine times for 115 yards and an 18-yard score on the first drive of the game. He also found Clay five times for 109 yards and Clay also scored a rushing touchdown. Defensively, the Dolphins were getting taken advantage of by Luck in the first half to the tune of 248 passing yards but shut him down over the final 30 minutes and sacked him twice. Another free agent, cornerback Brent Grimes, came up with the biggest play of the game late in the fourth quarter when he intercepted Luck's pass in the end zone intended for veteran wide receiver Reggie Wayne for a touchback. Former Colts linebacker Philip Wheeler and Randy Starks sacked Luck on 4th-and-10 with a little over a minute left in the game and Indianapolis out of timeouts.

Miami Dolphins hold off Andrew Luck, Indianapolis Colts

September 15, 2013|By Adam Beasley, Staff writer

INDIANAPOLIS -- No Andrew Luck magic this time. Instead, the Dolphins' defense changed fortunes — of both the game, and just maybe, a franchise.

Miami made a four-point lead hold up for the game's final 19 minutes, getting stop after critical stop to escape town with a 24-20 victory against the Colts on Sunday.

After watching Luck pull Houdini acts all afternoon, Philip Wheeler and Randy Starks finally sacked the Colts' gifted quarterback at the most important time.

Their stop on fourth-and-10 deep in Dolphins territory preserved the win over a 2012 playoff team and handed Luck just his second home loss in 10 career games.

The Dolphins' reward for winning: their first 2-0 start since 2010, putting them atop the AFC East with all eight home games still to come.

Inside a joyous postgame locker room, the win's significance wasn't lost on the Dolphins, from the top down. Even the normally stoic Joe Philbin was emotionally charged when he addressed the team.

"We were really fired up to get a win on the road against a team that doesn't lose [at home] typically," said Wheeler, who made his first impact play for the Dolphins since signing in March.

Added Starks: "We knew we needed a big play. We know [Luck] gets a lot of credit for bringing his team back in the fourth quarter."

For a while, the game looked destined to play to script. The Dolphins jumped to an early 14-3 lead, but as in last year's loss to Indianapolis, they let it slip away. The Colts led 20-17 early in the third quarter, and Luck, who entered Sunday with eight career fourth-quarter comeback victories, was rolling.

That's when the Dolphins made four plays that won the game.

They were, in order:

• 5:05 left in the third quarter; Dolphins ball; second-and-10 at Indy's 35. Mike Wallace, who roasted the Colts for nine catches and 115 yards, got behind Greg Toler on a double move and pulled in a deep sideline catch, which he took to the 1. One play later, Charles Clay scored on his first career carry, putting the Dolphins ahead for good.

• 8:29 left in regulation; Colts ball; first-and-10 at Miami's 34. Luck tested Brent Grimes with a throw to the end zone. But Grimes got inside position on Reggie Wayne and pulled in the interception — his first since tearing his Achilles tendon last September.

• 7:04 left in regulation; Dolphins ball; third-and-8 at their 22. The last thing the Dolphins wanted to do was give the ball right back to Luck, so Ryan Tannehill found Brandon Gibson on an 11-yard pass across the middle. It was Gibson's lone catch of the day, but allowed Miami to drain another three minutes off the clock.

• 1:35 left in regulation; Colts ball; fourth-and-10 at Miami's 23. This is when Wheeler and Starks sealed it. While Wheeler, who blitzed from the second level, was credited with the sack, Starks was there to clean it up had Luck wiggled free again.

"They might have been a little bit confused," Wheeler said. "I think I missed a sack earlier in the game. I never played against [Luck] before. He's bigger than I thought. I just wanted to get him on the ground the last play of the game. I had a little help, maybe."

The white-knuckle finish was fitting for a game as close as the score suggested. The Colts had the edge in total yards (448 to 398). Indianapolis converted just one more third down than Miami.

And each team turned the ball over only once.

A key difference: Tannehill was more efficient than Luck, who went seven picks earlier in the 2012 draft.

Tannehill completed 23 of 34 passes for 319 yards with a touchdown — an 18-yard bubble screen pass to Wallace on the game's opening drive. Tannehill also found Clay five times for 109 yards.

Luck, meanwhile, was 25 of 43 for 321 yards. He connected with T.Y. Hilton (Miami Springs, FIU) six times for 124 yards, but also threw the costly interception.

Lost in the fireworks shuffle: the Dolphins running game was much improved over last week. Lamar Miller went for 69 yards on 14 carries, including a 10-yard touchdown jaunt in the first quarter.

And Caleb Sturgis pounded through a 54-yard field goal on the last play of the first half, tying the score at 17. The Dolphins would surrender just three more points the rest of the way.

"It is very satisfying anytime you can win on the road and to have a complete game," said Tannehill, who has completed 65.3 percent of his passes on this young season. "[A] tough situation, the defense is backed up, everyone needed to make a play. It's really satisfying."

GAME NO. 3

DOLPHINS 27, FALCONS 23
September 22, 2012

Sun Life Stadium
Miami Gardens, FL

The Miami Dolphins pulled out a dramatic 27-23 comeback win over the Atlanta Falcons. Second-year quarterback Ryan Tannehill capped off a flawless 75-yard scoring drive in with a 1-yard touchdown pass to rookie tight end Dion Sims with 38 seconds left in the game. In addition to Sims, tight ends Charles Clay and Michael Egnew also came up with big receptions on that final drive. Sims fought off Falcons linebacker Stephen Nicholas and made a nifty one-handed grab of Tannehill's pass for the game-winning score. Third-year safety Jimmy Wilson sealed the victory with a leaping interception of Falcons quarterback Matt Ryan with 26 second left in the game and ran out of bounds at the Atlanta 41. Tannehill completed 24-of-35 for 236 yards, two touchdowns and one interception to win his head-to-head duel with Ryan. He connected earlier in the third quarter with wide receiver Brian Hartline on an 18-yard score and rookie kicker Caleb Sturgis drilled field goals of 46 and 50 yards to remain perfect on the season at 5-for-5. The Falcons led 10-0 early in the second quarter before the Dolphins even touched the ball a second time, yet Tannehill and company never panicked. Running back Lamar Miller's 49-yard burst up the middle keyed a six-play, 80-yard scoring drive that culminated with fellow running back Daniel Thomas' 5-yard touchdown run, and then Tannehill executed the two-minute drill at the end of the half well enough to set Sturgis up for his 46-yard field goal as time expired. Miami trailed only 13-10 at intermission. Unfortunately, Tannehill's opening drive ended in a sack and a lost fumble that was recovered at his own 12 by Falcons defensive tackle Peria Jerry.. Atlanta converted on the turnover when Ryan found tight end Levine Toilolo from 2 yards out to extend his team's lead back to 10 points. After Sturgis made it a one-score game again with his 50-yard field goal early in the third quarter the Miami defense forced Atlanta to punt for the first time and Matt Bosher shanked it badly out of bounds at the Dolphins' 40. A tipped pass off the hands of Clay resulted in an interception by Falcons safety William Moore but their offense stalled again with a three-and-out, and then their defense responded by forcing a Brandon Fields 53-yard punt. Dolphins rookie cornerback Don Jones forced a fumble by Harry Douglas that was recovered by John Denney and three plays later Tannehill found Hartline alone in the end zone. It was up to the Dolphins' defense for the rest of the second half to contain Atlanta and keep the score close enough so that the offense could have a chance to pull out the win.

Dolphins defeat Falcons, 27-23, in dramatic fashion to stay undefeated

September 22, 2013|By Chris Perkins, Staff writer

It was second and goal at the 1-yard with 43 seconds left in Sunday's amazing come-from-behind 27-23 victory over Atlanta at Sun Life Stadium.

This wasn't a game-tying field goal, mind you. This was a game-winning touchdown, the result of a dramatic, hard-fought 13-play, 75-yard drive. This was a statement.

"We have a special team," wide receiver Brian Hartline said.

This victory wouldn't have happened last year, or even two years ago.

The Dolphins played much of the second half without four defensive starters, the biggest loss being defensive end Cam Wake (knee), the team's best player. They lost linebacker Koa Misi in the third quarter and entered the game without defensive tackle Paul Soliai (knee) and cornerback Dimitri Patterson (groin).

And still the Dolphins won.

Indeed, this Dolphins team, off to a 3-0 start for the first time since 2002, is different. It has a killer instinct. It can operate the two-minute offense. It can make big plays on both sides of the ball. It has a big-time quarterback. It knows how to win.

"You know, it's unbelievable," right tackle Jonathan Martin said. "We didn't play great. Three turnovers, and we gave up those five sacks, but we did just enough to win, and that's what it comes down to in the NFL -- making plays when it matters."

Because of those play-making skills, the Dolphins are one of five 3-0 teams in the NFL (Chicago plays Sunday night, and Denver plays Monday night).

Next week's game at New Orleans (3-0) on Monday Night Football sets up to be perhaps the biggest game of the week, and maybe the biggest game in the NFL so far this season.

Tannehill (24-for-35 passing, 236 yards, two touchdowns, one interception) has been the guiding light. He's led three successful must-have drives in the last two weeks.

There was Sunday's game-winner against Atlanta. It used 4:08 on the game clock and didn't have a catch by his two most established receivers – Mike Wallace (two receptions, 22 yards) and Hartline (four receptions, 56 yards).

Instead, it featured one reception apiece by the tight ends trio that been eyed with suspicion– Sims, Michael Egnew, and Charles Clay -- as well as two receptions by wide receiver Rishard Matthews, last year's seventh-round pick who entered the game with 11 career receptions and two key receptions by Brandon Gibson (six receptions, 49 yards).

There was Sunday's drive as time expired in the second quarter. It used a 46-yard field goal to cap eight-play, 60-yard drive that consumed 2:04 off the clock and kept the Dolphins close with a 13-10 halftime deficit.

"Those three points were huge," coach Joe Philbin said.

And then there was the field goal as time expired in the first half in last week's 24-20 victory at Indianapolis. Sunday's victory wasn't easy.

After falling behind, 10-0, in the second quarter the Dolphins cut their deficit to 13-10 at halftime, but fell behind, 20-10, in the third quarter when Falcons quarterback Matt Ryan hit tight end Levine Toilolo on a two-yard reception.

The Dolphins tied the game at 20 with 56 seconds left in the third quarter on an 18-yard touchdown pass from Tannehill to Hartline. The touchdown came four plays after rookie safety Don Jones caused a fumble on a punt return to Atlanta's Harry Douglas. Dolphins snapper John Denney recovered at the Falcons' 19-yard line.

It was another big play by a team that's making a habit of big plays. Soon, the rest of the NFL will take notice of what's happening in South Florida.

GAME NO. 4

SAINTS 38, DOLPHINS 17
September 30, 2013

Mercedes Benz Superdome
New Orleans, LA

Looking for their first 4-0 start since 1995, the Miami Dolphins ran into a New Orleans Saints offense hitting on all cylinders at home on a Monday night and came up on the wrong end of a 38-17 score. Second-year quarterback Ryan Tannehill had an up-and-down first half, leading the Dolphins on two scoring drives, including one of 81 yards that resulted in a touchdown to make it a four-point game. But his fumble on a scramble and interception late in the half led to two New Orleans touchdowns and gave Saints quarterback enough of a cushion to settle into his own rhythm. Both teams entered the game unbeaten, with two of Miami's three wins coming on the road, but once Brees got going he was hard to stop as he found eight different receivers on the night. By game's end he completed 30-of-39 passes for 413 yards, four touchdowns and no interceptions while improving to 9-0 in primetime games at the Mercedes-Benz Superdome. Tight end Jimmy Graham (four catches, 100 yards, two touchdowns), running back Darren Sproles (seven catches, 114 yards and one touchdown) and wide receiver Marcus Colston (seven catches, 96 yards) were his biggest targets. Tannehill, who had looked solid in the first three games, especially in the fourth quarter, finished the night 22-of-35 for 249 yards, one touchdown and three interceptions. He also picked up 48 yards on the ground on four carries and second-year running back Lamar Miller led the way with 62 rushing yards on 11 carries. Wide receiver Brandon Gibson was the Dolphins' leading receiver with six catches for 71 yards and tight end Charles Clay also grabbed six passes for 42 yards. The Saints defense also got after Tannehill with its pass rush, sacking him four times.

Miami Dolphins lose 38-17 to New Orleans Saints in battle of undefeated teams

September 30, 2013|By Andrew Abramson, Staff writer

NEW ORLEANS — With the country getting its first real glimpse at the surging Dolphins, Miami was not ready for prime time. Not even close.

The Saints demolished the Dolphins 38-17 in a Monday night showdown of previously undefeated teams.

What looked like a promising game for the Dolphins until shortly before halftime got out of hand quickly in the third period. The Saints scored 21 unanswered points in a little more than a quarter and led 35-10 entering the final period.

"We just didn't make plays and that's what this is all about," Dolphins cornerback Brent Grimes said. "We've got to make plays out here especially against a team like that with a great offense that's proven to score a lot of points.

"They came out and played like the Saints. We just didn't do our job."

New Orleans' Drew Brees threw for 413 yards and four touchdowns. Running back Darren Sproles, who was quiet in his first two games against the Dolphins when he played for San Diego, broke out for 142 total yards and two touchdowns.

Coach Joe Philbin said the Dolphins "tried a variety of different coverages" against Sproles to no avail.

"We tried zone, we tried man, we tried some pressures," Philbin said. "Sproles was very good."

The Dolphins' struggles against tight ends continued with New Orleans' Jimmy Graham, the former University of Miami basketball player, finishing with four receptions for 100 yards and two touchdowns.

Miami's Ryan Tannehill, who led the Dolphins on a game-winning drive last week against Atlanta, had two second-quarter turnovers that killed Miami's momentum. Tannehill finished 22-for-35 for 249 yards, a touchdown and three interceptions. He also rushed for 48 yards on four carries, but was sacked four times.

The Dolphins, now 3-1, return home to face an up-and-down Baltimore team that is 2-2.

Miami played in the Superdome for the first time in 18 years and although coaches and players said all week that it was crucial to strike early and take New Orleans' fans out of the game, the Dolphins won the kickoff and deferred. The Saints made them pay early, taking the ball 82 yard on the opening drive in a little more than three minutes, capped off by a Sproles 5-yard touchdown run. The Dolphins, who entered the game as the league's most successful team in the red zone, came right back and drove to the Saints 9, but had to settle for a field goal after running back Daniel Thomas was tackled for a 2-yard loss on a third-and-1.

Both defenses tightened up until the Saints took a 14-3 lead with eight minutes left in the first half. Dolphins cornerback Nolan Carroll, who was starting in place of the injured Dimitri Patterson, briefly left the game with an ankle injury and rookie Jamar Taylor had to cover Graham.

Graham made a leaping grab in the end zone to haul in a 27-yard touchdown and give the Saints a 14-3 lead.

The Dolphins, who have struggled running the ball all season, came right back on the next drive and handed the ball off to running back Lamar Miller on three of the first four plays. Tannehill then found a wide-open Marcus Thigpen — the return specialist who made a rare appearance in a play from scrimmage — who broke away for a 50-yard gain. Miller — who gained 62 yards on 11 carries — then scored on a 5-yard run to bring the Dolphins to within 14-10. It only went downhill from there.

After forcing the Saints on a quick three-and-out, the Dolphins got the ball back with a little more than two minutes remaining and had an opportunity to take a halftime lead.

But Tannehill, who fumbled on the opening drive of the second quarter, threw an interception right into the hands of New Orleans' Jabari Greer. The Saints then scored on a 13-yard pass from Brees to Sproles.

Philbin said he reminded players at halftime that they faced a 10-point deficit last week against Atlanta.

"We were down 11," said Philbin of Monday's halftime deficit. "We'd certainly preferred to have been up, but we had been in that situation and we had responded relatively well."

Tannehill said the team "felt confident" heading into the second half. But the Dolphins collapsed in the third quarter, giving up touchdowns to Watson and Graham on New Orleans' first two drives.

Dolphins receiver Mike Wallace, who was held to three receptions for 24 yards, said the loss stung. Despite the final score, Wallace felt like the Dolphins were in good position before the momentum quickly shifted late in the second quarter.

"We killed ourselves right before the half," Wallace said.

The Dolphins were playing without defensive end Cameron Wake, who suffered a mild knee sprain last week and missed the first game of his career. He warmed up before the game in front of coach Joe Philbin, GM Jeff Ireland and trainers but the team decided to sit him.

Defensive tackle Paul Soliai returned to the lineup and had a solo tackle and batted down a pass. Soliai said his knee felt "pretty good" after the game.

Now, he and his teammates will have to quickly get ready for Baltimore on a short week. Philbin said he will learn a lot about his team in the coming days.

"We have a very good football team coming into Sun Life Stadium," Philbin said. "We're going to find out a lot about what kind of football team we have by how we respond, how we come into the building tomorrow, how we can function as a football team. It's going to be a challenging week, no doubt.

Sun Life Stadium
Miami Gardens, FL

Both defenses dictated the tone this afternoon at Sun Life Stadium with timely plays, but it was the Baltimore Ravens that had the last word with two key stops, escaping with a 26-23 win over the Miami Dolphins. Miami had a chance to send the game into overtime in the final minute when rookie kicker Caleb Sturgis lined up to try a 57-yard field goal. He was a perfect 10-of-10 on the season coming in but his kick sailed wide to the left and Baltimore kneeled to end the game. Second-year quarterback Ryan Tannehill finished 21-of-40 for 307 yards and a touchdown and wide receiver Mike Wallace caught seven passes for 105 yards. Fellow wide receivers Brandon Gibson (four catches for 74 yards) and Brian Hartline (four catches for 60 yards) also got involved, as did tight end Charles Clay with three catches for 52 yards and a nine-yard touchdown. Tannehill's mobility was on display throughout the game as some of his most effective passes came on the run, including a 30-yarder to Hartline late in the first half that helped set up the scoring pass to Clay. His biggest completion came on the final drive on a 4th-and-10 with 1:30 remaining out of the shotgun. He was chased out of the pocket to his left and then pulled up and threw on the run deep to Gibson for a 46-yard completion down to the Ravens' 34. With the clock ticking down and out of timeouts, Tannehill spiked the ball on first down with 1:01 left and on 2nd-and-10 he was sacked by Elvis Dumervil for a 5-yard loss back to the 39. Tannehill missed Clay on the next play and on 4th-and-15, Sturgis came on to try what would have been his career long field goal. He had the distance but the ball never came back inside the uprights. Dolphins safety Reshad Jones awoke the crowd with a 25-yard interception return for a touchdown with 8:03 left to tie the game after his team had fallen behind by 10 points. It was Jones' first career touchdown and the first interception returned for a score by Miami since Kevin Burnett did so on December 4th, 2011 against the Oakland Raiders. It was also the first interception returned for a touchdown by a safety since Brock Marion ran one back 100 yards against Buffalo on January 6th, 2002. But after Miami's defense stopped the Ravens and forced a punt, Baltimore linebacker Terrell Suggs sacked Tannehill twice to force another punt and his quarterback, Joe Flacco, engineered what proved to be the game-winning scoring drive. Justin Tucker's 44-yard field goal was the difference in the end as he finished 4-for-4 with a long of 50 yards on the afternoon.

Miami Dolphins' rally falls short as Ravens hold on 26-23

October 6, 2013|By Adam Beasley, Staff writer

Koa Misi thought it was good. So did many of the 68,342 souls who packed Miami's home stadium Sunday.

The Miami Dolphins' public-address crew was so sure Caleb Sturgis had sent the game into overtime that it played, however briefly, the team fight song to celebrate.

But Sturgis knew the painful truth as soon as his foot connected on the 57-yard, game-salvaging field-goal attempt:

"I mis-hit it," the rookie kicker said.

The rare error pushed the kick left – resulting in the first miss of his young NFL career – and allowed the Ravens to escape Sun Life Stadium with a 26-23 victory.

Make no mistake, however. The Dolphins enter their bye on a two-game skid not because of how they executed that final play, but how they performed in the game's previous 29 minutes.

Despite leading the defending Super Bowl champs by a touchdown at intermission, the Dolphins (3-2) in the second half managed just three offensive points and allowed Baltimore (3-2) to score on four of six possessions.

The defense, playing without pass-rusher Cam Wake (knee), cornerback Dimitri Patterson (groin) and linebacker Dannell Ellerbe – who sustained a shoulder injury during the game – couldn't make a stop.

The team's rickety offensive line allowed six more sacks Sunday, the last of which to Elvis Dumervil made Sturgis' last-ditch attempt longer than it should have been.

Assuming he survives the year, Ryan Tannehill is on pace to get sacked an incredible 77 times this season, which would be the most abuse an NFL quarterback has ever taken. The record for sacks taken is 76, held by David Carr.

"The starting point in the passing game is protection," said Dolphins coach Joe Philbin, who has said that a lot lately. "It's hard to function when you're going backwards."

Added tackle Jonathan Martin, who surrendered two of Terrell Suggs' three sacks: "We just have to play better. ... It's a concerning trend so far and something that we need to get corrected now."

Even still – despite surrendering 238 second-half yards, managing 10 total first downs and converting on only 3 of 16 third downs – the Dolphins still had the ball late with a chance to win.

How?

• Mike Wallace had a bounce-back game, catching 7 balls for a team-high 105 yards. The Ravens, however, neutralized the speedy wideout in the second half by playing a soft Cover-2.

• The Dolphins were plus-2 in the turnover battle (teams win 80 percent of the time with such a margin), which they converted into 10 points.

• And Sturgis was perfect before his miss, connecting from 37, 25 and 48 yards.

Plus, Tannehill and Reshad Jones made incredible individual plays.

Jones picked off Ravens quarterback Joe Flacco, whose arm was hit on the throw by Dion Jordan, and returned the interception 25 yards for a touchdown, tying the score with 8:03 remaining.

And with the Dolphins down to their last chance, Tannehill rolled out and connected with Brandon Gibson for 46 yards on fourth-and-10, extending his team's final drive. But even then, the protection wasn't right.

"That was a pocket pass and I escaped," admitted Tannehill, who went 21 of 40 for 307 yards with a touchdown (9 yards to Charles Clay) and didn't turn the ball over for the first time this year.

Added Gibson, who went deep when the play broke down: "I made sure I was where I needed to be."

Philbin wanted his team to get to Baltimore's 40 to give Sturgis any type of shot of sending the game to overtime. The completion to Gibson put Miami at the 34 with a minute remaining.

But two incompletions and Dumervil's sack turned a difficult kick into a near-impossible one.

That was something Sturgis knew – even if Misi and much of the stadium did not.

BILLS 23, DOLPHINS 21
October 20, 2013

Sun Life Stadium
Miami Gardens, FL

After digging themselves an early hole in the first quarter, the Miami Dolphins were on the verge of completing a crucial comeback win at home against the Buffalo Bills. But former Dolphins kicker Dan Carpenter's 31-yard field goal with 33 seconds remaining gave Buffalo a narrow 23-21 win. Miami had stormed back from a 14-0 deficit to take a 21-17 lead in the third quarter on the strength of three Ryan Tannehill touchdown passes – two to wide receiver Brandon Gibson and one to tight end Charles Clay. It appeared that Tannehill was going to make up for his two early interceptions by engineering the comeback, but after his defense pinned the Bills deep and forced a short field on a punt, disaster struck. Tannehill dropped back to pass on 2nd-and-8 and had the ball stripped out of his hands by Bills defensive end Mario Williams. Defensive tackle Kyle Williams recovered the loose ball at the Miami 34 and Buffalo ate up the clock while moving into the red zone to set Carpenter up for the game-winning kick. The home fans saw a glimmer of hope when Marcus Thigpen returned the ensuing kickoff 44 yards out to the Miami 46 but Tannehill couldn't advance the ball any further. His Hail Mary pass on 4th-and-10 after scrambling to his right was knocked down in the end zone by Buffalo's Stephon Gilmore and with that the Dolphins fell to 3-3 on the season. Tannehill ended the day completing 19-of-37 passes for 194 yards, three touchdowns and two interceptions, with Mike Wallace catching six passes for 76 yards, Brian Hartline reeling in six passes for 69 yards and Gibson grabbing five for 40. Running back Daniel Thomas led all rushers with 60 yards on 12 carriers.

Dolphins slide continues with late collapse vs. Bills

October 20, 2013|By Chris Perkins, Staff writer

The Dolphins' biggest offensive weaknesses – an inability to protect the quarterback Ryan Tannehill, an inability to run the ball, and Tannehill's propensity for losing fumbles —conspired against them in the fourth quarter Sunday against Buffalo.

It was those factors, along with former kicker Dan Carpenter's 31-yard field goal with 33 seconds left, which caused the Dolphins to sustain a gut-wrenching and humiliating 23-21 loss to the Bills at Sun Life Stadium. It was the third consecutive loss for the Dolphins after starting the season 3-0.

Carpenter, released by the Dolphins during training camp, kicked two field goals in the fourth quarter to help the Bills (3-4) to steal the victory. Bills quarterback Thad Lewis, making his just third NFL start, was ho-hum, going 21-for-32 passing for 202 yards, no touchdowns and one interception. But he did enough to win.

"They made the plays they had to make to win the game," Dolphins coach Joe Philbin said. "Give them credit."

Things only get tougher for the Dolphins. They travel to New England next week to take on the Patriots, coming off a tough loss at the Jets. The Dolphins haven't won at Gillette Stadium since 2008.

The Dolphins, once the darlings of the NFL after opening the season 3-0, are now on a three-game losing streak. And they're in that position because they blew a 21-17 third quarter Sunday due to those aforementioned deficiencies.

Buffalo cut its deficit to 21-20 early in the fourth quarter when Carpenter's 20-yard field goal capped a 15-play, 72-yard drive.

From then on, the Dolphins, who entered the game 29th in rushing offense at 69.6 yards per game, needed to run the ball to milk the clock.

They ran three times for four yards in the fourth quarter. Dolphins running backs Lamar Miller and Daniel Thomas, who combined to rush for 103 yards on 21 carries, entered the fourth quarter with a 99 yards on 19 carries. But the Dolphins chose to pass.

Then, after what turned out to be the Dolphins' final run, a two-yard gain by Thomas, the game changed greatly.

Bills defensive end Mario Williams, who ranked third in the NFL with eight sacks entering the game, got his second sack of the day when he blew past right tackle Tyson Clabo (eight sacks allowed this year; two sack allowed Sunday) and dropped Tannehill, causing him to fumble.

It was Tannehill's seventh fumble of the season, and the fourth one he's lost. It was also the Dolphins' NFL-leading 26th sack allowed.

Defensive tackle Kyle Williams recovered the loose ball, setting up the Bills at the Dolphins' 34-yard line.

Although the sack/fumble led to Carpenter's game-winning field goal, Philbin stood by his decision to try to seal the game through the air.

"We ran the ball on first down, got two yards," Philbin said. "Second and eight (the sack play), we believe we had a good play called so we called the play."

The lost fumble wasn't Tannehill's only miscue of the day. He threw a pick-six (interception that's returned for a touchdown) on the Dolphins' first possession of the game when cornerback Nickell Robey jumped an "out" route and took the errant pass 19 yards for a touchdown and a 7-0 Bills lead.

Tannehill (19-for-37 passing for 194 yards) threw three touchdown passes, but he also threw two interceptions and lost a fumble. He now has 11 turnovers – and seven interceptions and four lost fumbles – and nine touchdown passes.

The Dolphins, who fell behind, 17-7 in the second quarter, fought back to take a 21-17 lead. But they couldn't close the deal.

"This is a bad feeling," said wide receiver Mike Wallace, who had five catches for 76 yards on Sunday. "You don't want to feel like this. Three games in a row? That (expletive) is unacceptable. Especially after starting out hot like we did. We can't let this team continue to go down this path. We can't let this season spiral and get away from us."

Concerns over how the Miami Dolphins would rebound from in the previous week's loss to Buffalo appeared to be solved in the first half at New England. But things quickly fell apart in a 27-17 defeat, the team's fourth straight. What started out as a promising display on the road against the Patriots behind an effective ground attack and sturdy offensive line was for naught in a pivotal AFC East clash. Second-year running back Lamar Miller rushed for 63 of his career-high 89 yards in those first two quarters and New England did not get to second-year quarterback Ryan Tannehill one time after he had been sacked 26 times coming in. Defensively, cornerback Dimitri Patterson kick started the Dolphins with his third interception of the season on Patriots quarterback Tom Brady's first pass attempt, setting up Tannehill's 4-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Brandon Gibson. The pressure created by Miami's front seven got to Patriots quarterback Tom Brady in the first half, holding him to just 25 passing yards and a dismal 38.0 passer rating. His offense managed just 59 total yards in the first half. Tannehill found running back Daniel Thomas for a 5-yard score in the second quarter and rookie kicker Caleb Sturgis nailed a 52-yard field goal to allow the Dolphins to carry a 17-3 lead into the locker room. Brady got the ball back early in the third quarter after the defense forced a three-and-out, with Odrick getting his second sack of Brady, and drove the offense into the red zone at the 19 before getting sacked for the first time back at the 28. Sturgis' 46-yard field goal attempt bounced off the right upright and that's where the game turned, as New England scored 24 unanswered points to improve to 6-2 overall. Miami's last victory at Gillette Stadium was on September 21st, 2008, a 38-13 decision that started a string of six wins in eight games and resulted in the team's first AFC East division crown since 2000. The last time a win was in the Dolphins' grasp in Foxborough was back in 2011 on Christmas Eve when they squandered a 17-0 halftime lead in a 27-24 loss and that was Odrick's second season. Tannehill, who had been a key reason behind Miami's 3-0 start, absorbed six sacks in the second half to raise his season total to 32 but he kept pulling himself off the turf and battling. An unlucky bounce in the third quarter when he went deep down the right sideline for speedster Mike Wallace resulted in his first interception, as New England's Devin McCourty jumped in the air and tipped the ball volleyball style to teammate Marquise Cole. He managed to barely keep his feet inbounds at his own 18. Brady turned that into six point to stretch a three-point lead to 10 points and Tannehill was left to fend for himself at the podium after the game trying to explain what went wrong.

Miami Dolphins succumb to New England Patriots' second-half rally

October 27, 2013| By Adam H. Beasley, Staff writer

FOXBOROUGH, Mass. -- The Dolphins played in the first half Sunday like the team they want to be.

They played in the second half like the team they've been the last month.

Turnovers, questionable officiating and an avalanche of momentum in the second half buried the Dolphins yet again. Ryan Tannehill turned the ball over three times after halftime — two leading to New England scores — and the Dolphins blew a two-touchdown lead to fall to the Patriots 27-17 Sunday.

It was the Dolphins' fourth loss in a row and their seventh consecutive at the hands of the Patriots. They're now 3-4, fading out of the playoff picture and must play division-leading Cincinnati in three short days.

And then there's this: The Dolphins will likely have to finish the season without receiver Brandon Gibson, who sustained what is believed to be a season-ending knee injury Sunday afternoon.

"In the second half, I feel like we let up on them," linebacker Philip Wheeler said.

Added Dannell Ellerbe: "It kind of snowballed a little bit. ... If we don't get wins in these next games, I feel like [the season] could slip away."

Quipped coach Joe Philbin: "We didn't play good football. Not good enough to win."

They haven't for more than a month now. There were plenty of plot twists and turning points Sunday. But one play more than any other crystallized the team's decade-long futility against New England.

Down three midway through the fourth quarter, the Dolphins stripped Tom Brady deep in Miami territory — and yet logic-defying — still gave up a first down. When Olivier Vernon lunged for the loose ball, he batted it backwards — which the officials determined was an intentional act. That's illegal and gave the Patriots 10 yards plus a fresh set of downs.

"I was just trying to make a play," said Vernon, who wouldn't respond when asked whether he was attempting to recover the ball or punch it. "It don't matter. The refs made that call. It impacted[the game] a lot."

And almost immediately.

Four plays later, the Patriots were in the end zone (courtesy of a 3-yard touchdown run by Stevan Ridley), and the game was essentially over. Sure, the Dolphins still had more than 7 minutes to mount a rally, but instead allowed four more sacks, turned the ball over again (a Tannehill pick) and had a field goal blocked (Caleb Sturgis' 39-yard attempt).

Any one of those plays usually spells doom in Gillette Stadium, where the Patriots (6-2) have won 25 of their past 28 games. Combined, they made for a dreadful finish to a game that once had such promise. The Dolphins raced to a 14-0 first-half lead on Tannehill touchdown passes to Gibson (4 yards, before his injury) and Daniel Thomas (5 yards). Tannehill finished the game with 192 yards, those two touchdowns and two interceptions on 22 of 42 passing. With new left tackle Bryant McKinnie in the starting lineup, the Dolphins' offensive line mauled New England's front seven early.

Miami rushed for a season-high 156 yards (including 89 on 18 carries by Lamar Miller) on the day, and didn't allow a sack in the first half. The defense was also playing great, holding Brady to just 25 passing yards through two quarters. And up 14 points early in the second half, the Dolphins had a chance to stretch the lead even more. But Tannehill was sacked on third down, and Sturgis then hit the upright on his 46-yard field goal attempt.

With that, New England exploded, scoring the game's final 24 points. First, Brady directed a 5-play, 64-yard drive, capped by a 14-yard touchdown pass to Aaron Dobson, who got behind Nolan Carroll on a double move. On the Dolphins' next possession, Logan Ryan blindsided Tannehill, forcing a fumble that Rob Ninkovich recovered at the Miami 13. Brandon Bolden scored the gift touchdown, tying the game with a 2-yard jaunt.

Stephen Gostkowski later boomed through a 48-yard field goal, giving the Patriots their first lead of the day.

Finally, New England's defense made one of the best plays you will ever see. Tannehill went deep down the right sideline to Mike Wallace, but Devin McCourty batted the ball up before he went out of bounds. Marquice Cole corralled it, and got two feet down.

The Patriots converted the turnover into seven points — with the assist from the officials on the Vernon batted ball.

"We thought he was trying to recover it," Philbin explained, "but they said he illegally batted it."

Philbin had never before beaten the Patriots as a Dolphins coach, and couldn't Sunday, despite limiting Brady to 116 passing yards.

In defeat, he joined an inauspicious fraternity.

The Dolphins have lost four or more consecutive games in five of the last 10 seasons. None of the coaches of those teams returned the following year.

Meaning: Four-game skids not only wreck seasons, but they can derail careers.

On a night when one of the greatest defensive players in Miami Dolphin history was inducted into the Dolphins Honor Roll, this era's best defensive player secured a crucial win over the Cincinnati Bengals. Defensive end Cameron Wake's sack of Bengals quarterback Andy Dalton with 6:38 left in overtime resulted in a game-winning safety and a 22-20 victory. It was Wake's third sack of the game and put an end to Miami's four-game losing streak, evening the team's record at 4-4 and improving the Dolphins' record on Halloween to 6-0. How fitting it was that a defense that forced four turnovers was responsible for the biggest play, and how fitting it was that it came after former Dolphins middle linebacker John Offerdahl had his name added to the ring around Sun Life Stadium. Wake's first sack of the game also was a strip of Dalton that he recovered and his defensive teammates came up with three interceptions Cornerback Brent Grimes' 94-yard interception return for a touchdown in the third quarter gave Miami a 17-3 lead. Running back Lamar Miller had his first career 100-yard rushing game, finishing with 105 yards and quarterback Ryan Tannehill had a 1-yard touchdown run as the Bengals saw their four-game winning streak come to an end.

Miami Dolphins end skid with dramatic victory on a safety in overtime

October 31, 2013| By Brian Biggane, Staff writer

Dolphins defensive end Cam Wake made it clear Thursday night that he finally is back to full speed. Wake sacked Cincinnati's Andy Dalton in the end zone with 6:38 remaining in overtime, giving the Dolphins a 22-20 victory at Sun Life Stadium that snapped Miami's four-game losing streak.

The play lifted Miami to 4-4 while dropping Cincinnati to 6-3. The Bengals had won four in a row. The game was only the third in NFL history decided in overtime by a safety.

The Dolphins led 17-3 midway through the third quarter but didn't register a first down in the second half until the final minutes of regulation. That is when Ryan Tannehill led Miami on a 50-yard drive in 1 minute, 13 seconds. Caleb Sturgis capped the drive with a 44-yard field goal to make it 20-20.

Miami had the ball twice and Cincinnati once in overtime until Brandon Fields' punt pinned the Bengals at their own 8. After two incomplete passes, Dalton dropped back into his end zone and was pulled down by Wake. The play was upheld after a lengthy replay.

"It was almost like a movie moment," Wake said later. "We needed to make a play … I beat the center with a pass-rush move."

Wake, who also forced and recovered a fumble while sacking Dalton in the first quarter, had been either out of the lineup or ineffective for the past five games while battling back from a knee injury.

"He's been fighting hard to get back and we could see it this week," cornerback Brent Grimes said.

Dalton committed four turnovers — three interceptions and a fumble — but wound up 32-of-53 passing for 338 yards. A.J. Green lived up to his Pro Bowl pedigree with 11 catches for 128 yards.

Grimes' 94-yard return of an interception for a touchdown staked the Dolphins to a 17-3 lead with 7:37 left in the third quarter. But Dalton marched the Bengals 80 yards in 12 plays to make it 17-10, and after a Miami three-and-out, the Bengals ripped off 70 yards in four plays, rookie Giovani Bernard darting the last 35 on a broken play to tie it 17-17 early in the fourth quarter. Bernard, a West Palm Beach native who played high school ball at Fort Lauderdale St. Thomas Aquinas, also had a 3-yard TD run but left the game with an injury early in the fourth quarter.

The Dolphins played with a makeshift offensive line. Starting tackle Jonathan Martin had gone AWOL from the team, and starting guard Richie Incognito left with a neck injury early in the game, forcing little-used Nate Garner and Will Yeatman into service, as well as Tyson Clabo, who had been benched last week.

Miami nonetheless rushed for a season-high 157 yards, one more than it totaled Sunday against New England, and averaged 5.2 yards per carry. Lamar Miller had his first 100-yard game, carrying 16 times for 105 yards.

Cincinnati coach Marvin Lewis announced after the game that Pro Bowl defensive tackle Geno Atkins was lost for the season with a torn ACL.

After the Bengals' Mike Nugent opened the scoring with a 31-yard field goal early in the second quarter, the Dolphins put together a 10-play, 93-yard drive that made it 7-3 with 2:39 left in the half. The big play on the drive was a 40-yard hookup from Tannehill to Mike Wallace, who eluded the coverage of Terence Newman. Wallace finished with six catches for 82 yards and also drew a 38-yard pass-interference call on Newman in overtime.

After driving his team from its own 17 to the Miami 10 following the second-half kickoff, Dalton looked for Marvin Jones on third-and-4, but Grimes stepped in front, picked off the ball at the 6 and raced down the left sideline, beating tight end Jermaine Gresham to the end zone for the first pick-six of his career to make it 17-3.

Linebacker Philip Wheeler said the win had great significance as the Dolphins look ahead to their next game Monday, Nov. 11 at Tampa Bay.

"It does a lot for us," he said. "Not only record-wise, but for our confidence. Getting that losing streak off of us, we're at .500 now and feel like we can start fresh with some wins."

Ten days after fighting their way to an overtime victory at home on Halloween, the Miami Dolphins dropped a heartbreaker on the road to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, 22-19. Miami erased a 15-0 deficit to score 19 unanswered points behind a career night for second-year wide receiver Rishard Matthews but ran out of gas in the fourth quarter against a hungry Tampa Bay team. Bobby Rainey's 1-yard touchdown run early in the third quarter proved to be the difference and then back-to-back sacks of Dolphins quarterback Ryan Tannehill on the Dolphins' final drive sealed it. Matthews caught 11 passes for 120 yards and two touchdowns, the first two of his career, to spark Miami's passing game after the Bucs shut down the run but it wasn't enough. The loss drops the Dolphins to 4-5 on the season with back-to-back home games against the San Diego Chargers and Carolina Panthers next on the schedule. Tannehill finished 27-of-42 for 229 yards, two touchdowns and an interception on his final throw of the game on a 4th-and-28 and rookie kicker Caleb Sturgis was 2-of-2 on field goals of 40 and 30 yards. Safety Jimmy Wilson had an interception in the third quarter.

Dolphins extend misfortune, lose at Tampa Bay, 22-19

November 11, 2013| By Chris Perkins, Staff writer

TAMPA —The big question entering Monday's game between the Dolphins and Tampa Bay was whether the Dolphins could shake the swirling national controversy that's hung over the team and play winning football.

They couldn't. Now everyone will watch for signs of a major meltdown.

Two long-standing issues — sacks and turnovers — victimized the reeling Dolphins and sent them to a humiliating 22-19 loss against the previously winless Buccaneers at Raymond James Stadium. Quarterback Ryan Tannehill, with a chance to lead a game-tying or game-winning drive, was sacked twice and threw an interception in the final two minutes to seal the loss.

Now comes more pain. The Dolphins (4-5), who thought they had a chance to re-enter the playoff picture with a victory, have now lost four of their last five games after a 3-0 start. And they go home to a NFL investigation into the disturbing Jonathan Martin-Richie Incognito situation.

The last two weeks or so have been what Dolphins owner Steve Ross called a "nightmare."

The battle between two of the most troubled teams in Florida this season (yes, that includes 1-8 Jacksonville) was prefaced by Ross addressing the bizarre situation between Richie Incognito and Jonathan Martin. Incognito, of course, has been suspended for conduct detrimental to the team and stands accused of harassing teammate Martin, who is away from the team with a "non-football illness."

"The most important thing is we care about Jonathan Martin, No. 1," Ross said, conspicuously omitting any mention of caring about Incognito. Ross announced he was forming two committees to evaluate the current situation and make recommendations for the future.

Tampa Bay (1-8), which entered the game winless, could relate to the Dolphins' troubles. The Buccaneers have had their share of trauma this season. The team battled the MRSA infection as well as a situation with quarterback Josh Freeman that forced the Bucs to release him.

But the Dolphins trumped those troubles with relative ease. That led to Monday's game. Playing with limited resources that included the third starting offensive line in the last three weeks, a defense that was missing two starters (linebacker Koa Misi was out with a knee injury and cornerback Dimitri Patterson was out with a groin injury) and a kicker that had missed five of his previous eight field goals attempts, the biggest thing the Dolphins had going in their favor was their opponent.

But the same could be said for the Buccaneers, who got a couple of breaks, especially in the fourth quarter while protecting a 22-19 lead.

Dolphins linebacker Philip Wheeler had a costly roughing the passer penalty after rookie quarterback Mike Glennon threw an incomplete pass that had the Dolphins ready to receive a punt and begin their game-winning drive. But Wheeler hit Glennon late, giving Tampa Bay the ball and new life with about 6:03 remaining. The Bucs ran the clock down to 3:00.

The Dolphins did well to make a comeback, overcoming a 12-0 deficit. After the Dolphins took a 16-15 lead, safety Jimmy Wilson got the ball back with an interception. Kicker Caleb Sturgis, who entered the game having missed five of his previous eight field goal attempts, hit a 30-yarder to extend the Dolphins' lead to 19-15. At that point they seemed firmly in control.

Wide receiver Rishard Matthews had the best game of his brief career. Matthews, the 2012 seventh-round pick from Nevada, ended with a career-best 11 receptions for a career-best 120 yards and two touchdowns.

The Buccaneers took a 15-0 lead when kicker Rian Lindell hit a 35-yard field goal in the second quarter.

Then the Dolphins woke up. They drove 90 yards in nine plays to get within striking distance at 15-7 with 28 seconds left in the second quarter, the pay-off coming on a 6-yard touchdown pass from Tannehill to wide receiver Mike Wallace.

The Dolphins took a 19-15 lead into the fourth quarter, and that's when their collapse began.

Or, as some might say, it's when their collapse continued.

DOLPHINS 20, CHARGERS 16
November 17, 2013

Sun Life Stadium
Miami Gardens, FL

No defensive coordinator is fond of the term "bend but don't break," but the Miami Dolphins did just that Sunday afternoon at Sun Life Stadium to help preserve a 20-16 victory over the San Diego Chargers. After allowing short touchdown drive in the first quarter that was set up by a Chargers interception, Miami's defense held them to three field goals the rest of the way and got stronger in the fourth quarter. Olivier Vernon's sack of Philip Rivers midway through the fourth quarter pushed San Diego out of field goal range and was one of three in the quarter by the Dolphins. Jared Odrick and Cameron Wake had the others. Those were all of the sacks in the game and they came when it mattered most and cornerback Brent Grimes came up with his third interception of the season.

Meanwhile on the offensive side of the ball, tight end Charles Clay caught six passes for 90 yards and his 39-yard catch-and-run touchdown in the third quarter helped turn the tide. He bowled over Chargers safety Marcus Gilchrist on his way into the end zone to fire up the crowd and the Miami sideline. Quarterback Ryan Tannehill completed 22-of-35 passes for 268 yards, one touchdown and an interception and rushed the ball 10 times for 57 yards and a touchdown, a 1-yard leap in the second quarter to give the Dolphins a 10-7 lead. Rookie kicker Caleb Sturgis was a perfect 2-for-2 on field goals and Brandon Fields' 61-yard punt late in the game forced Rivers to have to try and go 83 yards for the win.

Miami Dolphins defense hangs on late to beat San Diego Chargers

November 17, 2013| By Adam H. Beasley, Staff writer

No offensive linemen. No margin for error. No problem for the Dolphins.

The Dolphins survived the Chargers 20-16 Sunday evening with just enough offense, just enough defense — and just enough charity from San Diego.

Their reward: a move into a tie with the Jets for the sixth and final playoff spot in the AFC — with two games against New York still to play.

The Chargers had the ball and a chance to win, but Cameron Wake made a drive-altering sack, and Brent Grimes knocked down the last pass of the game to seal it.

Ryan Tannehill completed 22 of 35 passes for 268 yards with a touchdown and a pick for the Dolphins, who won for just the second time in seven games.

The day began with more bad news for the Dolphins' wafer-thin offensive line: Mike Pouncey was ruled out of the game. In his absence, Nate Garner slid over to center, and newly signed Sam Brenner started at left guard.

Pouncey had missed Friday's practice due to an illness that sent him to the hospital, but it was not believed to be a major issue at the time.

The Dolphins were already without Jonathan Martin (who's away from the team) and Richie Incognito (suspended). Plus, top reserve lineman Will Yeatman is out for the year with a torn ACL.

The patchwork group held up well on Miami's first drive, giving Tannehill time to direct an 11-play, 76-yard drive that resulted in a 22-yard Caleb Sturgis field goal.

The Dolphins' defense followed that up with a play of its own. Philip Rivers overthrew Vincent Brown down the right sideline, and Grimes made an acrobatic interception to snuff out the drive.

But Tannehill gave it right back. A play after Derek Cox dropped an interception, Tannehill threw another one to Johnny Patrick.

It led to a San Diego touchdown. Antonio Gates completely shook Reshad Jones to get open in the end zone. From there, it was an easy pitch and catch from Rivers, who connected on a 5-yard touchdown strike.

The Dolphins scored on their ensuing drive if, for no other reason, the Chargers couldn't stay out of their own way. Brian Hartline fumbled the ball away at the San Diego goal line, but Corey Liuget hit Tannehill late, extending the drive.

That allowed Daniel Thomas to go over the top and into the end zone from 1 yard out.

Nick Novack boomed through a 27-yard field goal late in the half to tie the game at the break.

Then early in the third quarter, Charles Clay took over. He swatted away three tackles – running over safety Marcus Gilchrist in the process -- and rumbled 39 yards to the end zone. On the drive, he had three catches for 53 yards.

San Diego responded with a pair of scoring drives of its own, both resulting in Novack field goals to cut the lead to 1.

But the Dolphins' offense responded, cobbling together a field-goal drive capped by a 37-yard kick by Sturgis. That stretched the lead to 4 with 8:34 to play.

November 24, 2013

Sun Life Stadium
Miami Gardens, FL

Only a few minutes separated the Miami Dolphins from cooling off the NFL's hottest team at Sun Life Stadium, but a late touchdown drive by the Carolina Panthers allowed them to escape with a 20-16 win. Panthers quarterback Cam Newton's 1-yard touchdown pass to tight end Greg Olsen with 43 seconds remaining thwarted the Dolphins' upset bid and their bid to go one game over .500. It's the ninth game this season that has come down to the fourth quarter for Miami. Carolina's comeback victory also rendered Dolphins wide receiver Mike Wallace's best outing of the season moot. Wallace caught five passes for 127 yards and a touchdown with 110 of those yards coming in the first half, including a 53-yard scoring reception when Miami took a 16-6 lead into the locker room. Newton was harassed all afternoon by an active Dolphins defensive front and was sacked three times, twice by Olivier Vernon and once by rookie defensive end Dion Jordan. He also threw what looked like a costly interception late in the first half, as Dolphins cornerback Nolan Carroll jumped the route and set up his offense deep in Panthers territory. It looked like the turnover was going to result in seven points and a 20-3 halftime lead for Miami but Tannehill's pass to Rishard Matthews in the back of the end zone ended up incomplete when Matthews was drilled by Panthers linebacker Luke Kuechly. A penalty flag was initially thrown for an illegal hit but it was picked up and the Dolphins had to settle for a 23-yard field goal by rookie kicker Caleb Sturgis. Newton drove Carolina 52 yards on eight plays in 1:01 at the end of the half to set up Graham Gano's 46-yard field goal as time expired, giving his team a little momentum. He then engineered a 14-play, 83-yard drive to open the second half, capping it off with a 5-yard touchdown run to cut the deficit to 16-13. The two teams kept trading punts after that until Newton was able to come up with the necessary plays on that final drive and take advantage of what looked like a tired Dolphins defense. Early on in the drive it appeared that Miami was going to close the deal, putting the Panthers in the position of having to convert on fourth-and-10 from their own 20, but Newton found wide receiver Steve Smith for 19 yards to keep the drive alive.

Dolphins fold late, lose to Carolina in game's final minute

November 24, 2013|By Chris Perkins, Staff writer

MIAMI GARDENS—With 46 seconds left in Sunday's game at Sun Life Stadium, Carolina quarterback Cam Newton dropped back, spotted tight end Greg Olsen wide open in the end zone, and gently guided the one-yard game-winning pass his way, right over the flummoxed Dolphins' defense.

It was too easy.

In fact, you could say that about the entire second half of the Panthers' 20-16 come-from-behind victory over the Dolphins.

"We had a couple of opportunities on both sides of the ball," said quarterback Ryan Tannehill, whose team took a 16-13 lead into the fourth quarter. "We were a couple of plays from winning that game. We just have to be able to make those plays."

With the loss, the Dolphins (5-6) are locked in a six-way tie for the sixth and final playoff berth in the AFC along with Pittsburgh (5-6), Baltimore (5-6), San Diego (5-6), the New York Jets (5-6) and Tennessee (5-6). If the season were to end today, the Titans would earn the final spot in the playoffs.

Carolina (8-3), which has now won seven consecutive games, fought back to win Sunday. However, the Dolphins made it easier as the game wore on.

The Dolphins allowed Carolina a crucial field goal right before halftime that would come back to haunt them. The Dolphins also took an eight-yard loss on a sack that might have caused them to miss a 53-yard fourth-quarter field goal attempt, and dropped a probable touchdown pass on the game's final possession.

Look no further than Carolina's final drive to see how the Dolphins' gift-wrapped another victory for the Panthers. The Dolphins allowed the Panthers to march 80 yards in 12 plays, aided by 19-yard gain on a fourth-and-10, an eight-yard gain on a third-and one, and a 15-yard gain on a third-and-two. Oh, yeah, Carolina also got a critical 15-yard boost on a late hit penalty by safety Reshad Jones against Newton that put them at the Dolphins' 29-yard line with 1:55 remaining.

The Dolphins had a chance to answer. They took over at their own 14-yard line with 38 seconds left. But wide receiver Mike Wallace, who had an otherwise solid game, dropped a sure touchdown pass, his 10th drop of the season, on the second-to-last play of the game. Wallace (five receptions, 127 yards, one touchdown) got turned around trying to locate the pass. The ball glanced off his hands near the goal line.

"The ball, when it came out of [Tannehill's] hand, it was kind of like going to the right, so I turned that way," he said. "The ball, it started going back to the left, so I turned, that was to find the ball. I just didn't make the play."

Aside from that costly drop, the Dolphins only rushed for 52 yards, allowed Carolina to rush for 136 yards, and had a busted defensive formation in the second quarter that allowed Carolina to get a key field goal.

With the Panthers trailing, 16-3, they had the ball own their own 43-yard line with eight seconds left before halftime. The Dolphins dropped four defensive backs about 30 yards deep. But Newton wisely took the underneath route and hit wide receiver Brandon LaFell for a 29-yard gain. He went out of bounds with one second left, which allowed kicker Graham Gano to hit a 46-yard field goal as time expired to cut Carolina's deficit to 16-6.

Without that field goal the Panthers would have had a 17-16 lead late in the game and the Dolphins could have played for a game-winning field goal, not a game-winning touchdown.

The Dolphins, who have now lost six of their last nine games, maintain the on-going NFL investigation into the Richie Incognito-Jonathan Martin situation had nothing to do with Sunday's result. NFL special investigator Ted Wells was at the team's Davie practice facility all week interviewing players, coaches and staff in relation to harassment/bullying scandal.

"The guys were ready to play the game," coach Joe Philbin said. "I think that was evident."

Perhaps they just weren't ready to finish.

Met Life Stadium
East Rutherford, NJ

Starting with the opening drive of the game, the Miami Dolphins made it clear today they were intent on controlling the tempo against the New York Jets, and they never let up in a convincing 23-3 win. Second-year quarterback Ryan Tannehill relied on an offensive line that welcomed back starting center Mike Pouncey to protect him all afternoon and he rewarded that group with an efficient performance through the air. He completed 28-of-43 passes for 331 yards, two touchdowns and one interception, with wide receivers Brian Hartline and Mike Wallace and tight end Charles Clay his chief targets, and he was only sacked once. Defensively, the Dolphins held New York to 177 total yards and suffocated the Jets' passing attack, chasing starter Geno Smith from the game after the first half. Defensive coordinator Kevin Coyle's unit didn't let up on Smith's replacement, Matt Simms, sacking him three times in the second half and picking off his late desperation pass in the fourth quarter to seal the deal. Veteran cornerback Brent Grimes came up with the interception in the end zone, his third of the season, and it was the third turnover of the day forced by the Miami defense, which finished with a total of four sacks. Rookie kicker Caleb Sturgis converted on 3-of-4 field goals from 19, 34 and 43 yards and Marcus Thigpen had a 50-yard kickoff return among a number of other returns that set the offense up in good field position. Hartline led all receivers with nine catches for 127 yards and a 31-yard touchdown that broke open a 6-0 game early in the third quarter. Speedy wideout Mike Wallace added seven receptions for 82 yards, including a 28-yard scoring pass where he broke a tackle near the right sideline and waltzed into the end zone to make it a 20-3 ballgame. Clay caught seven passes for 80 yards, all in the first half. Defensive end Olivier Vernon remained hot with 3.0 sacks on the afternoon, giving him 10.5 for the season. He is only in his second season and has the most sacks on the team, ahead of Cam Wake's 6.5. Linebackers Dannell Ellerbe, Philip Wheeler and Koa Misi all had solid performances, with Ellerbe intercepting Smith at the end of the first half to set up Sturgis' second field goal, Wheeler recovering a fumble and and Misi picking up a sack. Miami's ground game was pretty efficient, gaining 126 yards on 35 carries. Lamar Miller led the way with 72 yards on 22 attempts and Tannehill added 23 yards on two rushes, including an 18-yard scramble. Rookie Mike Gillislee picked up 21 yards on six carries in his NFL debut for the Dolphins.

Miami Dolphins rout Jets to stay alive in playoff hunt

December 1, 2013|By Adam Beasley, Staff writer

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. -- December, as Ryan Tannehill said Sunday with a poetic flourish, is when you either stand up or fall down.

Evidently, it's also a time when you stand up while shoving your rival's face in the mud.

The Dolphins did both Sunday, beginning the NFL's most honest month with their most complete performance of the season.

Miami forced three turnovers, got a 300-yard game out of Tannehill and roughed up the league's best run defense for 125 yards in a 23-3 manhandling of the New York Jets.

And it could have been far worse. The Dolphins left at least a touchdown — if not more — on the field in the first half.

But unlike recent weeks, when they blew big halftime leads late, the Dolphins dominated the game's final 30 minutes.

They outscored the hapless Jets 17-3 in the second half, with Tannehill stringing together enough big plays to make his defense's smothering performance stand up.

"We haven't been finishing this whole season," said defensive end Olivier Vernon, who added 2.5 more sacks to his team-leading tally. "That's one thing our coach has been stressing us to do. I feel like we got that job done today."

And by doing so, they kept pace with the Baltimore Ravens for the sixth and final playoff spot at 6-6. Six teams entered the week tied for the sixth seed, but the Ravens and Dolphins have now separated themselves, however slightly.

The Dolphins, however, do not control their own playoff fate, even if they win out. They need at least one more loss from Baltimore, because the Ravens own the head-to-head tiebreaker.

They can, however, all but eliminate the rest of the field. The Jets' hopes are essentially gone now, and the Steelers' will be too if Miami can win in Pittsburgh next week.

"We want to play meaningful games late in December," said receiver Brian Hartline. "This league's about winning championships, but you've got to put yourselves in position to even contend for them. We want to stay in contention for the playoffs."

They have. In the meantime, the Dolphins can feel good about putting together a spectacular 60 minutes against their most bitter foe.
Name a statistics, and Miami dominated it.

Yards? The Dolphins had a whopping 453-177 edge. First downs? 25-10 Dolphins.

Turnovers? Three forced by Miami, and only one surrendered.

Time of possession? An impressive 17-minute advantage.

Nothing like a rivalry game to bring out your best.

Or, as in the case of the Jets, your worst.

Tannehill shook off an early interception to complete 28 of 43 passes for 331 yards and two touchdowns. His counterpart, Geno Smith, got pulled at halftime.

Hartline led all receivers with nine catches for 127 yards and a score. His second-half touchdown — on which he beat Antonio Cromartie on a slant and raced 31 yards to the end zone — was Miami's first score in four quarters.

"We just wanted to be aggressive in the passing game, regardless of who covered us," Hartline said.

They were. Tight end Charles Clay caught seven balls for 80 yards.

And Mike Wallace put together his second straight big game. Wallace had seven catches for 82 yards and touchdown in which he shoved Dee Milliner to the side and raced 28 yards to paradise.

Over the past two weeks, Wallace has 12 catches for 209 yards and two touchdowns. His swagger has resurfaced with his game.

"This is the time when you've got to be the best you can be," Wallace said. "It's December. I've had enough time to get adjusted. It's the time for me to be the player I know I am, no matter [what]. Just block out everything and play football."

Wallace added: "I'm a great player, I know that. It's all that really matters. ... Let's call a spade a spade."

His defense played pretty great too. Vernon was a terror. Dannell Ellerbe and Brent Grimes had interceptions. Philip Wheeler recovered a fumble.

The Dolphins converted three turnovers into 10 points. They held the opposition out of the end zone for the first time all season.

And, thanks to a dominant second half, recorded their first win of the season by two or more scores.

"We kind of raised our level of play because we know what's at stake now," said cornerback Nolan Carroll. "We have the playoff mentality. We know every game's important every week.

"This is just another stepping stone to propel us into the playoffs."

Or, as Tannehill put it, it's time to stand up.

GAME NO. 13

DOLPHINS 34, STEELERS 28
December 8, 2013

Heinz Field
Pittsburgh, PA

Miami made key plays down the stretch in a 34-28 comeback win at the Pittsburgh Steelers. Tannehill's two favorite targets all season long – tight end Charles Clay and wide receiver Brian Hartline – made themselves at home at Heinz Field by combining for three touchdown catches, with Clay's 12-yard highlight reel reception with just under three minutes left in the game giving Miami the lead for the last time. Tannehill ended up completing 20-of-33 passes for 201 yards, three touchdowns and one interception. Running back Daniel Thomas, returning from a severe ankle injury that almost ended his season, set up Clay's heroics with a 55-yard run that was the longest of the season by any Miami player. Two plays later, Clay caught the pass from Tannehill in the right flat, fought free of one tackle, broke another tackle by Troy Polamalu and somehow managed to keep his balance and trot into the end zone to give the Dolphins a 31-28 lead. Miami's defense responded with a tough stand on Pittsburgh's next possession and defensive end Olivier Vernon chased down Steelers quarterback Ben Roethlisberger from behind on a 4th-and-10 and dragged him down two yards short of the first down. A personal foul penalty on Pittsburgh set up Tannehill and the offense at their 9 and after chewing up some clock, rookie kicker Caleb Sturgis drilled a 27-yard field goal to force Roethlisberger to have to go for a touchdown in the closing minute plus and no timeouts. Thomas led all rushers with 105 yards and a touchdown on 16 carries and became the primary ball carrier after Lamar Miller left the game with a concussion. Clay caught seven passes for 98 yards and the two scores to lead all receivers, including a 40-yarder in the first half and Hartline caught five passes for 51 yards and an 18-yard touchdown. Defensively, the Dolphins sacked Roethlisberger three times, with Cam Wake setting up his team's first touchdown by forcing a Roethlisberger fumble that was recovered by Randy Starks at the Pittsburgh 31. He and Olivier Vernon combined on a sack late in the game and safety Jimmy Wilson blocked a punt in the first half.

Miami Dolphins shrug off snow and Steelers in 34-28 victory

December 8, 2013|By Chris Perkins, Staff writer

Badly in need of a victory, the Dolphins went to Pittsburgh on a cold, snowy Sunday (the temperature was 25 degrees at kickoff) and delivered their best performance of the season in a 34-28 victory at Heinz Field.

The Dolphins (7-6), who posted their highest point total of the season against the Steelers, are still behind Baltimore (7-6) for the final AFC wild-card berth. Baltimore recorded a wild 29-26 victory over Minnesota on Sunday by scoring with four seconds left. The Ravens hold a tiebreaker advantage over the Dolphins by virtue of their 26-23 victory in October.

But right now it's all about the surging Dolphins, who defeated the New York Jets, 23-3, last week, and have won back-to-back road games in December for the first time since 2008. It appears they're peaking at the right time. The Dolphins, who rushed for a season-best 181 yards Sunday, have won three of their last four games, and four of their last six.

"You'd like to think every week you get better," defensive tackle Jared Odrick said, "and if that means peaking, yeah, sure."

The Dolphins, spurred by one of quarterback Ryan Tannehill's best games of the season (20-for-33 passing, 200 yards, three touchdowns, one interception), took a 10-7 halftime lead.

Pittsburgh (5-8) went ahead, 21-17, on a 43-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Andre Brown and a 19-yard interception return for a touchdown by safety Troy Polamalu.

The Dolphins regained the lead at 24-21 on Brian Hartline's 4-yard touchdown reception but Pittsburgh got on top again at 28-24 when quarterback Ben Roethlisberger hit Jerricho Cotchery on a 16-yard touchdown pass.

"Things could have caved from there," Dolphins coach Joe Philbin said.

But they didn't. The Dolphins found a new set of heroes in running back Daniel Thomas and tight end Charles Clay. Thomas rushed for 105 yards and a touchdown on 16 carries while relieving Lamar Miller, who left the game in the third quarter with a concussion. Clay had seven receptions for 97 yards and two touchdowns.

Thomas' 55-yard run in the fourth quarter was a big key to the victory. The third-year back started left and then cut back to the middle of the field and almost scored. Two plays later Clay, who exploited mismatches Sunday the way he's done it all season, scored on a 12-yard touchdown reception, breaking two tackles on his way to the end zone, to give the Dolphins a 31-28 lead.

The Dolphins tacked on another field goal for a 34-28 lead. That's when things got interesting.

The Steelers, on their own 26-yard line, got down to the game's final play, and almost pulled off what would have been one of the most miraculous endings in NFL history.

Roethlisberger (23-for-39 passing, 349 yards, three touchdowns, no interceptions) passed to wide receiver Emmanuel Sanders. He pitched the ball to Cotchery, who then pitched the ball to running back LeVeon Bell. But things still didn't seem serious. The Steelers were only at their 43-yard line.

Bell pitched the ball to right tackle Marcus Gilbert, and he pitched it to Roethlisberger at the Steelers' 33-yard line. But when Roethlisberger pitched the ball to Brown, things got serious.

Brown hit the left sideline and scampered 55 yards before running out of bounds at the Dolphins' 12-yard line. If Brown didn't barely step out of bounds he would have scored and Pittsburgh would have won a stunner.

Philbin had one thought going through his mind as he watched Brown make his way down the field.

"Please step out of bounds," he said.

The Dolphins, on the verge of their second three-game winning streak this season, host New England next week in another game crucial to their playoff hopes.

"We have a do-or-die mentality," Thomas said, "and we need to keep doing that next week."

Sun Life Stadium
Miami Gardens, FL

Somehow, someway the Miami Dolphins figured out how to do something against the New England Patriots that the New Orleans Saints and Denver Broncos couldn't – prevent them from pulling out a last-minute win Quarterback Ryan Tannehill outdueled future Hall-of-Famer Tom Brady in a 24-20 victory at Sun Life Stadium, hitting Marcus Thigpen with a 14-yard touchdown pass with 1:15 remaining. Cornerback Michael Thomas, who was signed off of San Francisco's practice squad earlier in the week, intercepted Brady in the end zone with two seconds left on a 4th-and-5 to seal the win. For the Miami players on offense, the coaching staff and the fans and the stands those last 75 seconds seemed like an eternity, especially since Brady was coming off yet another fourth quarter comeback. Wide receiver Mike Wallace doesn't feel quite as young as he used to. The Dolphins improved to 8-6 on the season and have one five of their last seven games to stay alive for the sixth and final playoff spot in the AFC and for the AFC East crown. Tannehill completed 25-of-37 passes for 312 yards, three touchdowns and no interceptions and Wallace caught six passes for 105 yards and a 39-yard touchdown pass at the end of the first half. Cameron Wake sacked Brady once late and hit him a number of other times to throw him off his game a bit and Thomas led a group of reserve defensive backs including rookie cornerback Will Davis that were called into action due to injuries to starting cornerbacks Brent Grimes and Nolan Carroll. It was the latest example of how the Dolphins have had to test the depth of their roster. Unlike the first meeting between these two teams back on October 27th in Foxboro, Mass., when Miami jumped ahead 17-3 only to surrender 24 unanswered points, it was New England blowing the big lead. Brady put his team ahead 10-0 late in the first half before watching the Dolphins score unanswered points to take a 17-10 lead on the first play of the fourth quarter on a 2-yard scoring pass to Daniel Thomas. But like Brady and the Patriots have done all season starting with that comeback win over Miami, they flipped the scoreboard again by scoring the next 10 points to hold a 20-17 lead with just over four minutes left. Brady kept taking hit after hit from Cameron Wake and his defensive teammates, including linebacker Koa Misi on a blitz on that final drive.

Miami Dolphins survive comeback attempt, defeat New England Patriots

December 15, 2013|By Adam Beasley, Staff writer

Few have shattered Dolphins dreams like Tom Brady and the Patriots. But this time, the tears came from unbridled joy.

"Oh my god, who wouldn't [cry]?" asked Michael Thomas, his eyes still moist. "Words can't explain it."

Let's try: Thomas — the guy most Dolphins players and fans had never heard of this time last week — made the team's play of the year Sunday.

Bawl on.

Thomas, a reserve defensive back thrust into action after an avalanche of injuries, intercepted Brady in the end zone Sunday, sealing the Dolphins' pulsating 24-20 victory over the Patriots.

With the victory, the Dolphins improved to 8-6 and kept the pressure on the Baltimore Ravens for the AFC's sixth and final playoff spot.

The Ravens (7-6) play the Lions on Monday night, and a loss by either Baltimore or the Bengals at Pittsburgh in Sunday's late game would give Miami control of its postseason destiny entering Week 16.

Either way, the Dolphins are playing their best football at the most important time. They've won four of five games and will be favored in their final two — next week in Buffalo and then in the finale against the New York Jets.

But just like their wild win over the Steelers the week before, this one was far from easy. They needed contributions from a rookie corner and a safety who is still a stranger in his own locker room.

Thomas and Will Davis had played a grand total of 13 NFL snaps — combined — entering Sunday's game.

But injuries to starting corners Brent Grimes (who injured his groin, but should be fine) and Nolan Carroll (knee) forced both into action late in the game.

The Patriots, down four points with 1:15 to play, needed 80 yards on their final drive to win. In other words, they were right in Brady's wheelhouse.

"He's going to exploit any team's weakness," Thomas said. "If he sees a new guy or a guy went down, the next guy up, he's going to see where they're at. And I knew that I had a chance if I got in, he was going to do that to me."

He did so twice in New England's final five plays. Thomas — claimed by the Dolphins off San Francisco's practice squad Tuesday after both Dimitri Patterson and R.J. Stanford went on injured reserve — passed both tests.

First, Thomas ripped the ball out of Danny Amendola's hands in the end zone.

Then, on fourth-and-5 from Miami's 14, he read Brady's eyes and drifted back from the slot corner position to make the game-clinching pick.

After that? Bedlam. Dolphins players swarmed their new teammate, who had never played in an NFL game before Sunday. Then, the tears came streaming down Thomas' face.

"A lot of people are going to try to put their own term to it," Thomas said. " 'Lucky,' you know, 'beastly.' But I used the term 'blessed.' "

Dolphins coach Joe Philbin must feel the same way. Usually, teams down to their third-string defensive back have no chance against Brady — particularly one who barely knows the calls.

But Thomas got special attention from assistants Lou Anarumo and Blue Adams throughout the week.

And yet, Thomas said the first time he worked with the Dolphins' starting defense was during the game. All of his snaps in practice last week came on the scout team.

"I don't know him that well," Philbin said. "When you meet the guy, you like him. He's a bright guy. He picks stuff up and when we needed him, he contributed."

If not for Thomas' heroics, the Dolphins defense might have again had to answer for yet another blown lead.

Ryan Tannehill, who outdueled Brady on this day, did more than enough to win. He had 312 passing yards and three touchdowns Sunday — the last coming on a 14-yard strike to Marcus Thigpen.

But the score came too soon.

Brady had plenty of time to rise from the dead again.

The range of emotions from the Dolphins' sideline, which has seen five blown second-half leads this year?

Receiver Mike Wallace, who had 105 yards and a touchdown on six catches: "Honestly, I might die two years earlier after that."

Tannehill: "That was the longest 75 seconds of my life."

And offensive tackle Bryant McKinnie: "It was torture. The last two weeks have been like that. We were sitting there, and we didn't want to look, then you do want to look. It's too much. We have to get some games that aren't so close."

The Dolphins had no margin for error on Sunday, however, because the offense was so bad early. They went scoreless for the game's first 29 minutes 28 seconds. Miami managed just 112 yards and no points through their first four possessions.

Then, Tannehill got hot. Not surprisingly, it was in a hurry-up situation.

Late in the first half, Tannehill directed an eight-play scoring drive that covered 82 yards in just 66 seconds. Wallace did the heavy lifting.

He caught a post pass, broke a tackle and then raced 39 yards to the end zone to cut the lead to 10-7 at intermission.

The Dolphins would then score on their next two drives to take the lead, but New England, not surprisingly, wouldn't go away.

Brady, who was 34 of 55 passing for 364 yards and two scores, was lights out for most of the second half. Amendola and Julian Edelman had 270 yards on 23 catches between them.

And when Brady connected with Edelman on a 24-yard touchdown pass with just over four minutes to play, it appeared he had foiled the Dolphins for an eighth straight time.

Tannehill and Thomas, however, had other ideas.

Buffalo, NY

An emotionally charged Buffalo Bills team put a damper on the Miami Dolphins' playoff push with a 19-0 victory in the freezing rain at Ralph Wilson Stadium. The Dolphins' postseason hopes now hinge on the outcome of the two late games today between Baltimore and New England and San Diego and Oakland. They close out the regular season next Sunday at Sun Life Stadium against the New York Jets looking at 8-7 to finish with a winning record. Buffalo's fearsome pass rush proved to be the difference again as Dolphins quarterback Ryan Tannehill was sacked seven times and knocked out of the game for a series in the fourth quarter with a leg injury. He managed to come back in the game but could not deliver a comeback, finishing the day completing just 10-of-27 passes for 82 yards, as the Dolphins were shutout for the first time since losing at New England, 28-0, last December 30th. Backup quarterback Matt Moore temporarily ignited Miami with a 50-yard bomb to wide receiver Brian Hartline on a 3rd-and-18 from his own end zone, but he was intercepted on the next play by Bills safety Jim Leonhard. That led to Dan Carpenter's third of four field goals to make it a two-touchdown lead at 16-0 and he finished off the scoring with a 26-yard field goal with 2:18 remaining. Buffalo's ground game also did in the Dolphins by gashing the front seven for 203 rushing yards on a bruising 51 carries, with Fred Jackson leading the way with 111 yards and a touchdown on 19 carries. C.J. Spiller added 77 yards on 20 carries and athletic quarterback Thad Lewis added 13 yards on eight carries. He also completed 15-of-25 passes for 193 yards and one interception. Dolphins punter Brandon Fields had to punt the ball 10 times and delivered a 74-yarder and a 67-yarder, with six of his kicks downed inside the Buffalo 20.

Dolphins blow golden opportunity with 19-0 loss at Buffalo

December 22, 2013| By Chris Perkins, Staff writer

ORCHARD PARK, N.Y. – —The Dolphins had one mission when they went to a Buffalo franchise preparing for another losing season – get a victory to control their playoff destiny. Instead, the Bills harassed Dolphins quarterback Ryan Tannehill, sacking him a season-high seven times and held the Dolphins offense to 103 total yards of offense in getting the 19-0 victory.

The Dolphins had their best playoff opportunity in five years Sunday…and they blew it. Now, making the playoffs for the first time since 2008 becomes a waiting game.

The bad news for the Dolphins, who currently hold the sixth and final AFC playoff spot, is they no longer control their own playoff future.

The Dolphins (8-7) are currently tied with Baltimore (8-7) and San Diego (8-7) for the sixth and final AFC wildcard berth.

If all three teams win next week – the Dolphins over the New York Jets, the Ravens over Cincinnati, and the Chargers over Kansas City – the Dolphins get the playoff berth by virtue of the tiebreaker, which is their 8-4 AFC record. Baltimore would be 7-5 and San Diego would be 6-6.

If the Dolphins and Ravens win and San Diego lose, the Ravens get the final berth by virtue of beating the Dolphins 26-23 earlier in the season. And in what could be a wild scenario, the Dolphins could also be involved in a four- or five-team scenario with Pittsburgh and the New York Jets, but the Dolphins wouldn't win either of those.

The Dolphins can't get in if they lose Sunday at home against the Jets. On Sunday, the Bills (6-9), an inferior team with inferior talent, pounded the Dolphins at Ralph Wilson Stadium in what has to be considered the most humiliating and frustrating loss in the coach Joe Philbin era.

"(We) picked a helluva day to kind of go out and lay an egg," defensive end Cam Wake said.

The Dolphins, who entered Sunday's game on a three-game winning streak and as one of the feel-good stories of the NFL season after overcoming a four-game losing streak as well as the Jonathan Martin-Richie Incognito scandal. All they needed to do was win their final two games – Sunday at Buffalo and next week against the Jets – to secure an AFC wildcard berth and they couldn't do it.

"In every aspect of the game we failed to step up," said Tannehill, who had one of the worst games in his career by going 10-for-27 passing for 82 yards, no touchdowns and no interceptions.

Tannehill was briefly knocked out of the game with a left knee injury. He later returned and after the game said he'd be OK to play against the Jets. The lowly Bills, using a lineup that included backup quarterback Thad Lewis and didn't include leading receiver Stevie Johnson, manhandled the Dolphins. By the way, this was the second time Lewis, who was making his fourth career start, beat the Dolphins this season. He was under center for the Bills' 23-21 victory over the Dolphins in October.

As for the rest of the team, Buffalo outgained the Dolphins, 390-103. The Bills outrushed the Dolphins, 203-14. The Bills had 18 first downs compared to six for the Dolphins.

Want more ways the Dolphins were dominated?

The Dolphins took one snap in Buffalo territory in the second half, and that resulted in an interception thrown by backup quarterback Matt Moore.

And the Dolphins were 2-for-14 on third-down conversions, a total Tannehill rightfully called "horrendous."

"It wasn't our best day on offense," Philbin said.

The Dolphins still aren't assured of their first winning season since 2008. To accomplish that, they have to defeat the Jets next week. And to make the playoffs they have to defeat the Jets. And it's all because they blew a great opportunity on Sunday.

"Everybody knew how important this was," safety Jimmy Wilson said, "and we just didn't do what we were supposed to do."

Sun Life Stadium
Miami Gardens, FL

Two year ago the Miami Dolphins succeeded in knocking the New York Jets out of the playoffs in the final game of the season at Sun Life Stadium, but the tables were turned on the same field. New York pulled out a 20-7 victory on an overcast South Florida day to stop Miami's run to the postseason, riding the arm and legs of rookie quarterback Geno Smith. With the loss the Dolphins finished at 8-8, one game better than last season, but were left to wonder about what might have been after losing their last two games. The Dolphins actually led early in the game on the strength of second-year quarterback Ryan Tannehill 's 5-yard scoring pass to Wallace. That capped off the longest scoring drive of the season of the offense, one that covered 89 yards on 14 plays in 6:56 and included a 25-yard pass to Brian Hartline to put him over 1,000 receiving yards for the second straight season. But Smith answered after the two teams exchanged punts with an efficient drive of his own, taking the Jets 71 yards on 10 plays in 5:21. Big defensive lineman Sheldon Richardson capped it off with a 1-yard touchdown run and then Smith ended the half with an 11-play, 70-yard drive, running the last seven yards himself into the end zone to give the Jets a 14-7 lead at the half. Three second-half interceptions by Tannehill and a physical running game employed by the Jets did Miami in down the stretch, with a trick play mixed in. Running back Bilal Powell's 30-yard pass to David Nelson out of the Wildcat set up Nick Folk's 34-yard field goal that made it a 10-point lead and then Ed Reed's interception off a deflection set up Folk's second field goal to close out the scoring. His final interception was to Milliner with a little over a minute left. Tannehill ended up competing 20-of-40 passes for 204 yards, one touchdown and three interceptions and his leading receiver in terms of catches was Wallace with five for 25 yards and in terms of yards it was Rishard Matthews with four catches for 58 yards. Second-year running back Lamar Miller finished with 73 yards on 17 carries to lead the team in that category.

Miami Dolphins have playoff hopes shot down by New York Jets

December 29, 2013|By Adam Beasley, Staff writer

In a funereal Dolphins locker room late Sunday afternoon, with yet another season ruined, players time and again referred to this team, this season, this franchise, as "average."

Perhaps that's being kind.

Average teams score more than 7 points in the year's final 8 quarters. Average doesn't turn the ball over three times in a must-win situation.

Average doesn't lose to the Bills and Jets in eight days.

No, the Dolphins were most definitely below-average Sunday, falling 20-7 to the hated Jets, a limited offensive team with absolutely nothing at stake.

This is how the Dolphins' 2013 season ended:

With Geno Smith outplaying Ryan Tannehill, with Miami's defense helpless against the Jets' running game, and with Brian Hartline out with a seemingly significant knee injury.

It's going to be a long offseason.

"Losing season," said receiver Mike Wallace. "I look at this as a losing season. We did too much, we wake up too early, work too hard to be 8-8."

Added defensive end Jared Odrick: "I'm at a loss for words right now. It's tough to put these feelings in a bottle and call it something."

Others, privately, were able to conjure up far saltier language to describe the team's latest, and arguably worst, late-season collapse.

Without doubt, changes are coming, and probably coming soon. That's what happens after five years out of the playoffs, and for the first time in franchise history, five years without a winning season.

Stephen Ross stood on the Dolphins' sideline late in the game Sunday, far from Miami's bench, surveying the carnage. He spent tens of millions of dollars in free agency and demanded improvement. All he got was one more win than the year before.

"The head coach is responsible for the results," Dolphins coach Joe Philbin said. "I have to start with myself. We didn't play well enough to win and earn a spot in the playoffs. You never back into a great achievement. We didn't earn it, and we're not going."

There's a sense that Dolphins offensive coordinator Mike Sherman will be the fall guy. Some in the Dolphins' locker room believe that Sherman will and should be fired after leading an offense that averaged 19.8 points and 312.9 yards in a league that practically begs team to score.

The Dolphins, who would have made the playoffs if they had beaten the Jets because the Ravens lost in Cincinnati, managed just one touchdown in their final 25 drives of the season.

And that one scoring drive — which occurred in the first half of Sunday's loss — came at a high cost. Hartline suffered what appeared to be a significant knee injury.

Hartline limped off the field and did not return. He'll have an MRI in the coming days to determine the severity.

The catch did lead to a 5-yard touchdown pass from Tannehill and Mike Wallace, which gave the Dolphins their only lead of the game. It didn't last the quarter.

The Jets would score the final 20 points of the day — touchdown runs by defensive tackle Sheldon Richardson (a la Refrigerator Perry) and Smith, along with a pair of field goals by Nick Folk.

Down a touchdown at the break, the Dolphins still believed they would come back and win. Instead, their final five drives ended like this: turnover on downs, interception, punt, interception, interception.

Tannehill managed just 204 yards on 40 attempts, and his season stats were, well, average.

He had a quarterback rating of 81.7 and now owns a career record of 15-17.

"We didn't finish strong, plain and simple," Tannehill said. "Obviously, none of us saw this coming."

The only consolation: Tannehill survived the season — and a team-record 58 sacks — without catastrophic injury.

To solely blame the offense for this collapse, however, is only half the story.

The Dolphins' run defense surrendered another 154 yards Sunday, upping the season-long total to 1,998. Miami allowed the Jets to rack up 22 first downs, including 6 on third down.

And the pass-rush, long believed to be the strength of the defense, managed just two sacks in the season's final 12 quarters. Dion Jordan, who the Dolphins traded up to take with the third overall pick, had only two sacks the entire year.

On Sunday, facing a rookie quarterback and an average group of skill position players, the Dolphins played passively. Instead of bringing pressure every play, they had their corners play soft. And when the Dolphins did blitz, Smith threw right at the space the defender vacated.
Someone will need to answer for all of this. Perhaps it will be Jeff Ireland, the general manager who has been to the playoffs just once in his six seasons in town.

On Sunday afternoon, it was up to Philbin to take the arrows. Asked about his job security, he dodged.

"There's a time and place for all that stuff," Philbin said.

Like first thing Monday morning.
